Poughkeepsie Man Dies of Attack

Stone Wall, Alertness of Daughter, Prevent Car's Plunge

Joseph Perassi, 76, of Hillcrest, Poughkeepsie, died of a heart attack Thursday afternoon as he was driving his automobile on Route 55 near Kerhonkson Heights, Coroner Ernest A. Kelly reported.

The automobile, which went out of control, was prevented from plunging over the side of the mountain by the fact that it struck a stone wall, and by the fact that Perassi's daughter, Mary, 23, turned off the ignition switch.

Miss Perassi flagged another motorist, and sent for help. Dr. Gellert of Kerhonkson was summoned and pronounced Perassi dead. Deputy Sheriff Irving Gillman of Kerhonkson was also notified.

Coroner Ernest A. Kelly investigated after it was found that Coroner Arthur C. Chipp was not available. Death was due to coronary occlusion, a natural cause, Coroner Kelly ruled.

Worked at Hospital

Joseph Perassi, a native of Italy, had been retired for several years, and was groundskeeper at St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie. Surviving are his daughter, Mary M. Perassi, a telephone operator, and another daughter 13 years old.

The body was taken to the William G. Miller Funeral Home, Poughkeepsie, where a Mass for the repose of his soul will be celebrated Monday morning. Burial will be in St. Peter's Cemetery, Poughkeepsie.

Last rites of the church were given at the scene by Father Flynn of St. Mary's Church, Ellenville.

Sixteen Weeks of Talk Toward Agenda Are Fruitless in Paris

Paris, June 22 (AP)—Prospects faded today for a Big Four Conference of the world's war jitters.

Sixteen weeks of attempts by deputy foreign ministers of Britain, France, the Soviet Union and the United States to draw up an agenda collapsed last night.

The western powers told Russia baldly there was no point in continuing their fruitless meetings. They added, however, they hoped Russia would see her way clear to attend the proposed Big Four conference despite the fact the deputies failed to agree on what should be discussed.

The west has tentatively proposed that the conference take place in Washington July 23.

The four deputies had made some progress in compiling a list of general subjects to be discussed. They were hopelessly deadlocked, however, over whether the North Atlantic Treaty and American overseas military bases should occupy a formal place in the conference negotiations.

Final Meeting Opens

The three western deputies opened the final meeting yesterday—the 74th since March—with a joint declaration which said Russia's insistence on putting the treaty up for debate "shows the continuation of this discussion has no practical utility."

They indicated any further exchanges would have to be on the government level.

Soviet Deputy Andrei Gromyko appeared perplexed and then a bit shaken by the declaration. He asked whether it meant the deputies conference was over.

When Britain's Ernest Davies replied in the affirmative, Gromyko pulled a bulky typewritten manuscript from his brief case and read a two hour and forty minute criticism of the west.

Decision Is Due in Week On Controls

Expires June 30

Defense Production Act Is Due to End Week From Tomorrow

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Committee action in both Houses of Congress yesterday set the stage for a decision next week in the rousing fight over continuation of price, wage, rent and other economic controls.

Banking committees on each side of the Capitol approved bills denying President Truman just about all the broad new powers he says he needs to check inflation and curtailing some he already has.

Floor debate on the Senate bill is set for Monday. Chairman Spence (D.-Ky.) of the House banking group said he would try to get House consideration started on Wednesday.

The Defense Production Act, which authorizes present control programs, is due to expire a week from tomorrow.

The Senate committee ignored strong administration pleas in writing into its bill a ban on any future rollbacks that would bring prices below the average of last Jan. 25-Feb. 24.

The House measure includes a number of amendments restricting Mr. Truman's control powers rather than broadening them as the President had asked.

Would Endanger Program

Price Stabilizer Michael F. DiSalle said the Senate rollback restriction "would disrupt and endanger the entire stabilization program" if it became law.

Senators Douglas (D.-Ill.), Moody (D.-Mich) and Ives (R.-N. Y.), all members of the Senate committee, jointly denounced the restriction and declared they would fight it on the Senate floor.

In a brief filed with both banking committees, DiSalle said the provision would cost consumers $2,500,000,000 in price rollbacks presently planned.

As it now stands, the Senate bill would block government orders rolling back the prices of live beef, shoes, apparel and many other items to their "pre-Korean" levels of a year ago.

It would permit the 10 per cent beef price rollback already in effect, but allow not more than a further two per cent cut in beef price ceilings, compared with twin 4½ per cent additional rollbacks already ordered to become effective on August 1 and Oct. 1.

Is 'Good Bill'

Senator Maybank (D.-S.C.), the committee chairman, insisted that what was left of the President's program is "a good bill." He said he would resist any efforts to make material changes. And, he added, he expects the Senate will back him.

The Senate bill would continue for eight months, until March 1, 1952, government authority to control wages, prices, rents and installment buying credit instead of two years extensions Mr. Truman sought.

It also would deny him the new powers he requested to seize private property for defense purposes, license businesses as a means to enforce controls, tighten credit controls on the purchase of existing housing, and in-

Police Chief to Be Defendant in Move To Get Machines

Action Is Based on Plea Items Are Not Classified in Gambling

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren will be the defendant in a civil action before City Judge Raymond J. Mino Thursday in an effort to reclaim three adding machines taken by police in a raid at 48 Chambers street last April 14 when five men were arrested on charges relating to bookmaking and policy.

The action is being brought by Joseph Weiss of Elmendorf street, who had no connection with the raid on the Chambers street place.

Elmor Nathan, plaintiff's attorney, is bringing action on the contention that the adding machines are not classified as gambling instruments under sections of the penal law on which the men were arrested.

Four of the men paid fines of $500 each and a fifth paid $50 in city court 10-days after the raid. Eight other men were arrested April 24 in a raid at 124 North Front street. Five of them paid $500 each and three paid $50 each in city court on May 18.

There has been no effort to reclaim other articles held by police in the horse room raids. These include switchboards, clocks and furniture. Confiscated telephones were returned to the telephone company.

Weiss, his attorney said, is a relative of one of the defendants arrested in the Chambers street raid.

Choice Is Offered

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Its banking committee today handed the Senate a choice between abolishing the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) or completing its reorganization.

U. S. Calls Upon United Nations To Send Added Troops to Korea

Gross Asks Soldiers Be Gotten From Nations Which Have Promised, but Have Not Given Supporting Action; Says More Needed

United Nations, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The United States has asked the rest of the United Nations to send reinforcements to Korea.

"There is a real need for additional forces from member states in the light of massive Chinese Communist concentrations in the area and of their continuing aggression," the United States delegation told the UN.

Ernest Gross, acting chief U. S. delegate, asked Secretary-General Trygve Lie especially to get troops from the nations which said they would support the UN action, but so far have not sent troops.

Fifty-three countries promised support. Sixteen sent ground forces, nine put naval forces into action, and eight sent air forces. Three others sent medical units, and 29 countries, including some which sent troops, promised shipping, food, clothing, medical supplies and cash.

Gross, in a letter to Lie which has been cabled to the secretary-general now in Copenhagen, said the U. S. and the unified command in Washington are already talking about increased forces with those countries which have already sent troops, ships and planes.

The unified command is made up of representatives in Washington of those countries with men in battle.

Returns From Trip

Lie's executive assistant Andrew Cordier returned yesterday from a globe-girdling trip which included conversations with the UN field commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and conferences with battlefield commanders north of the 38th Parallel in Korea.

Plane With 40 Is Missing in Africa On New York Hop

Craft More Than 10 Hours Overdue at Field Near Monrovia, Capital of Liberia

Dakar, French West Africa, June 22 (AP)—A Pan American World Airways Constellation with 40 persons abroad vanished today along the west African coast on a flight from Johannesburg to New York city.

The plane was more than 10 hours overdue at Roberts Field near Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, after leaving Accra on the gold coast.

Pan American said in New York that the plane, carrying 31 passengers and a crew of nine, had been due at Roberts Field at 9:45 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday, but that it reported 45 minutes later it was unable to sight the field. This was the last word from the missing sky giant.

(The plane was piloted by Capt. Frank J. Crawford of Huntington Station, New York. Most of the crew members were from the New York metropolitan area.)

A dozen French planes and other craft scoured land and sea areas for trace of the plane. Dakar airport said at 6:45 a. m. E.S.T., that the plane still had enough fuel to remain in the air.

The nearest U. S. Army rescue bases which could be useful in the search are at Port Lyautey in French Morocco and Tripoli on the Mediterranean.

Six of Crew Named

Cardinal Pleads Guilty

Budapest, Hungary, June 22 (AP)—Archbishop Joszef Groesz, Cardinal Mindszenty's successor as head of the Roman Catholic Church in Hungary, pleaded guilty today to plotting the overthrow of his nation's Communist government. For an hour he poured a full confession into courtroom microphones. The archbishop and eight other defendants went on trial before Judge Vilmos Olti, who sent Cardinal Mindszenty to prison on similar charges in the same courtroom. He also sentenced American businessman Robert A. Vogeler to 14 years imprisonment on spy charges.

Americans Beat Red Air Force for 5th Straight Day

Two Planes Are Shot Down and Three Damaged, Fifth Air Force Reports

Tokyo, June 22 (AP)—The Red air force was beaten for the fifth day this week in two roaring jet battles over North Korea today. American sabre jets shot down two Russian made jets and damaged three, the U. S. Fifth Air Force announced.

That raised Red losses this week to 11 planes shot down, one probably destroyed and 17 damager—a total of 29.

Eighty-nine jets were involved in the two battles, which were fought within 12 hours of the first fire bomb attack on United Nations troops.

As Reds stepped up their air war to new heights, their troops pushed allied forces back in the two biggest ground actions reported.

Thirty red-nosed MIG-15s roared out of Manchuria and across the Yalu river Friday morning to renew the jet war after a one day lapse. Twenty-eight sabre jets swooped down on them 30 miles from the Manchurian border.

Two MIGs were shot down and two ramager in the engagement fought at the comparatively low level of 10,000 feet.

Another MIG was damaged in a second battle in the same area about noon. Six sabre jets took on an estimated 25 MIGs in that fight.

245 U. S. Planes Lost

The Far East Air Forces announced 245 American planes have been lost in the war, which will be a year old Monday, and 391 Communist planes destroyed or damaged.

Two unidentified planes made a two hour attack on U. S. lines near Chorwon, on the western front, in the early morning darkness Friday.

They fire-bombed, strafed, rocketed and bombed allied positions by the light of parachute flares. Throughout the attack they roared through a sky streaked by tracers and the bursts of anti-aircraft fire from U. N. guns.

An allied division commander called it "a stunt to improve Chinese morale."

Earlier a tiny biplane strafed Kimpo airfield near Seoul and bombed the city itself. The "bombs" were reported to be

Anglo Staff Is Warned To Prepare

Iran Government Gives British Workers Week to Decide Whether They'll Work

Same Pay Offered

Britons, Others Would Get Privileges as Before

Tehran, Iran, June 22 (AP)—British employes of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company got ready today to pull out of Iran as increasing Iranian pressure threatened to break down British operation of that giant firm.

A. E. C. Drake, AIOC manager at the great Abadan refinery, warned all his British staff—some 3,000—to get their passports ready for a hasty exit.

It was the final preparation for a general British departure, if threatened disorders begin, or if Iran continues ot press for immediate turnover of operations to her newly nationalized oil industry.

The British predict the showdown will come at Abadan within the next few days. They expect Iranian Oil Company officials will ask British technicians to sign agreements acknowledging they are employes of the Iranian government at the same terms they have under AIOC contracts.

The Iranian government today gave British AIOC employes one week to decide whether they want to continue to work at their jobs under the newly organized Iranian National Oil Company.

Same Pay Offered

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatimi said Britons and other foreigners wishing ot work with the national company would get the same pay and privileges they received under AIOC contracts.

A British Embassy spokesman said yesterday he doubted whether many Britons wanted to work for the Iranian government. AIOC officials have said privately the company can transfer its employes here to other AIOC affiliates in Iraq and Kuwait.

The AIOC negotiating team left Tehran airport this morning for London.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, kingpin of the drive to take over AIOC operations under the nationalization law he pushed through Parliament 12 weeks ago, received a solid vote of confidence from Iranian deputies yesterday.

Hopes Are Chilled

The vote chilled western hopes that many legislators had soured on Mossadegh's "no compromise" stand toward the British-owned company which has run the Iranian oil industry for 50 years.

The British consul in Abadan sent out letters today urging quick completion of "Operation Heartbreak"—the evacuation of British women and children from the oil field area.

"Heartbreak" is the name British AIOC employes have given the hitherto voluntary departure of their wives and children from Iran. Some 150 dependents still remain. Many of the children were born here and have never seen England.

The letters urging the British families to pull out was issued on instructions from the British ambassador, Sir Francis Shepherd.

Would Carry On

Drake said his Abadan staff would carry on as long as it could, but declared they would have to clear out if Iranian interference made their work impossible.

Asked how long he thought the staff might continue, Drake said "probably until the Iranian directors find out I am not carrying out their orders. Then they'll fire me, I suppose."

The Iranians sent Drake nine letters full of instructions yesterday. They asked him to pay over all cash receipts to the Iranians

Electrol Orders Total $11,000,000

Backlog Is Nine Millions More Than in '50; Board Elected

Electrol Inc., 85 Grand street, has a backlog of orders to date of about $11,000,000 as compared to only $2,000,000 a year ago, it was reported at the annual meeting of the corporation yesterday.

A record attendance in person and by proxy represented more than 73 per cent of the total of 285,000 shares.

Re-elected to serve as board members for another year were B. N. Ashton, Kingston, president; former Senator Hiram Bingham, Washington, D. C.; C. F. Griffith, Philadelphia; F. W. Lutz, Brooklyn; E. H. Remmert, Kingston; C. E. Shields, Greenwich, Conn., and Marcel H. Stieglitz, New York.

It was reported that shipments during the fiscal year resulted in a net profit of $170,122.46 or 60 cents per share as compared with $147,069.60 or 52 cents per share for the previous year.

Seamen Win 40-Hour Week, But Disagree on Its Date

New York, June 22 (AP)—CIO seamen have won their major battle for a 40-hour week at sea, but the east and gulf coast shipping tieup went into its seventh day today because of a split over the effective date of the agreement.

Following a three-hour joint bargaining session early today, ship operators' spokesman Frank J. Taylor said the companies proposed the effective date of the sea-going work week bcome effective June 15, 1952, while the unions want it to begin next Dec. 16.

However, when Joseph Curran, president of the powerful CIO National Maritime Union (NMU), left the negotiation meeting he said: "We got exactly nowhere."

"If they don't change their attitude, there will be no next meeting," he added.

Federal Mediator Clyde Mills said he would try to get the employers and union together again "as soon as possible"—preumably later today.

Normally Sets Pattern

The negotiations here were between the ship operators ond only the NMU. But the NMU contract normally sets a pattern for two smaller CIO unions.

Meanwhile, peace settled on the west coast shipping front last night when the Pacific Maritime Association, an employer group, reached agreement ending the five-day strike of the CIO American Radio Association (ARA).

The ARA members were set to go back to work immediately.

The west coast agreement provides wage increases and improvements in working conditions, and the new contract will run for a minimum of two years, the PMA spokesman said.

He added that all parties agreed to extension of negotiations to work out a west coast pattern for work hours at sea, pensions and vacations.

There was no indication whether the ship companies met an ARA demand for a $63 increase over their present average of $352 monthly.

Unions Involved

The east and gulf coast unions involved in the "no contract—no work" stoppage are the 50,000 member NMU, 7,000 members of the Marine Engineers Beneficial Association and the 1,400-member ARA.

The unions have demanded the 40-hour sea week, a 25 per cent wage boost and vacation and other benefits. The 40-hour work week in port was part of a contract which expired last Friday at midnight—when the seamen refused to man vessels flying the American flag. The work week at sea was 48 hours.

Shipments for defense have been moving unmolested throughout the work stoppage.

The companies have made two weekly wage raise offers—the first a 4.12 per cent hike and the second "equal to eight per cent of basic wages in effect Jan. 15,, 1950."

The first wage proposal was turned down. The second was neither accepted nor rejected. Improved vacation schedules were accepted by the unions.

NMU members received from $213.79 to $315.35 monthly under the old contract.

House Democrats Alerted For Vote on Tax Increase

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Administration leaders alerted all House Democrats to be on hand today for a decision on the $7,200,000,000 tax increase bill which is hotly opposed by most Republican members.

After the final five hours of debate, scheduled to end at 3 p. m. (E.S.T.), the Republicans planned to move that the record-breaking revenue measure be returned to the Ways and Means Committee for rewriting.

Rep. Percy Priest of Tennessee, whose job as majority whip is to see that all the Democrats are on hand for crucial votes, told a reporter:

"There's no question but that we can pass the bill, but the vote on the motion to recommit may be close."

On that tally, the Democratic leadership expects to drop not more than six to ten Democratic votes, and is hopeful of picking up almost that many Republicans in favor of the bill. On that basis, they figure the current Democratic majority of 33 members ought to be sufficient to dispatch the legislation to the Senate.

Further unpredictable delay would result if the bill were recommitted. The Ways and Means group has been studying the 1951 tax bill since early February.

It calls for a $2,847,000,000 increase for individuals over a full year's operations, $2,855,000,000 more corporate income and excess profits taxes, and a boost of $1,252,000,000 in excise taxes on such things as whisky, cigarettes, gasoline and automobiles. The balance of the revenue increase would be achieved by a variety of miscellaneous changes, including

The Defense Production Act, which authorizes present control programs, is due to expire a week from tomorrow.

Action Is Based on Plea Items Are Not Classified in Gambling

Police Chief Raymond Van Buren will be the defendant in a civil action before City Judge Raymond J. Mino Thursday in an effort to reclaim three adding machines taken by police in a raid at 48 Chambers street last April 14 when five men were arrested on charges relating to bookmaking and policy.

The action is being brought by Joseph Weiss of Elmendorf street, who had no connection with the raid on the Chambers street place.

Elmor Nathan, plaintiff's attorney, is bringing action on the contention that the adding machines are not classified as gambling instruments under sections of the penal law on which the men were arrested.

Four of the men paid fines of $500 each and a fifth paid $50 in city court 10-days after the raid. Eight other men were arrested April 24 in a raid at 124 North Front street. Five of them paid $500 each and three paid $50 each in city court on May 18.

There has been no effort to reclaim other articles held by police in the horse room raids. These include switchboards, clocks and furniture. Confiscated telephones were returned to the telephone company.

Weiss, his attorney said, is a relative of one of the defendants arrested in the Chambers street raid.

U. S. Calls Upon United Nations To Send Added Troops to Korea

Gross Asks Soldiers Be Gotten From Nations Which Have Promised, but Have Not Given Supporting Action; Says More Needed

United Nations, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The United States has asked the rest of the United Nations to send reinforcements to Korea.

"There is a real need for additional forces from member states in the light of massive Chinese Communist concentrations in the area and of their continuing aggression," the United States delegation told the UN.

Ernest Gross, acting chief U. S. delegate, asked Secretary-General Trygve Lie especially to get troops from the nations which said they would support the UN action, but so far have not sent troops.

Fifty-three countries promised support. Sixteen sent ground forces, nine put naval forces into action, and eight sent air forces. Three others sent medical units, and 29 countries, including some which sent troops, promised shipping, food, clothing, medical supplies and cash.

Gross, in a letter to Lie which has been cabled to the secretary-general now in Copenhagen, said the U. S. and the unified command in Washington are already talking about increased forces with those countries which have already sent troops, ships and planes.

The unified command is made up of representatives in Washington of those countries with men in battle.

Returns From Trip

Lie's executive assistant Andrew Cordier returned yesterday from a globe-girdling trip which included conversations with the UN field commander Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and conferences with battlefield commanders north of the 38th Parallel in Korea.

He told reporters before the

Craft More Than 10 Hours Overdue at Field Near Monrovia, Capital of Liberia

Dakar, French West Africa, June 22 (AP)—A Pan American World Airways Constellation with 40 persons abroad vanished today along the west African coast on a flight from Johannesburg to New York city.

The plane was more than 10 hours overdue at Roberts Field near Monrovia, the capital of Liberia, after leaving Accra on the gold coast.

Pan American said in New York that the plane, carrying 31 passengers and a crew of nine, had been due at Roberts Field at 9:45 p. m. (E.S.T.) Thursday, but that it reported 45 minutes later it was unable to sight the field. This was the last word from the missing sky giant.

(The plane was piloted by Capt. Frank J. Crawford of Huntington Station, New York. Most of the crew members were from the New York metropolitan area.)

A dozen French planes and other craft scoured land and sea areas for trace of the plane. Dakar airport said at 6:45 a. m. E.S.T., that the plane still had enough fuel to remain in the air.

The nearest U. S. Army rescue bases which could be useful in the search are at Port Lyautey in French Morocco and Tripoli on the Mediterranean.

For an hour he poured a full confession into courtroom microphones. The archbishop and eight other defendants went on trial before Judge Vilmos Olti, who sent Cardinal Mindszenty to prison on similar charges in the same courtroom. He also sentenced American businessman Robert A. Vogeler to 14 years imprisonment on spy charges.

Americans Beat Red Air Force for 5th Straight Day

Two Planes Are Shot Down and Three Damaged, Fifth Air Force Reports

Tokyo, June 22 (AP)—The Red air force was beaten for the fifth day this week in two roaring jet battles over North Korea today. American sabre jets shot down two Russian made jets and damaged three, the U. S. Fifth Air Force announced.

That raised Red losses this week to 11 planes shot down, one probably destroyed and 17 damager—a total of 29.

Eighty-nine jets were involved in the two battles, which were fought within 12 hours of the first fire bomb attack on United Nations troops.

As Reds stepped up their air war to new heights, their troops pushed allied forces back in the two biggest ground actions reported.

Thirty red-nosed MIG-15s roared out of Manchuria and across the Yalu river Friday morning to renew the jet war after a one day lapse. Twenty-eight sabre jets swooped down on them 30 miles from the Manchurian border.

Two MIGs were shot down and two ramager in the engagement fought at the comparatively low level of 10,000 feet.

Another MIG was damaged in a second battle in the same area about noon. Six sabre jets took on an estimated 25 MIGs in that fight.

245 U. S. Planes Lost

The Far East Air Forces announced 245 American planes have been lost in the war, which will be a year old Monday, and 391 Communist planes destroyed or damaged.

Two unidentified planes made a two hour attack on U. S. lines near Chorwon, on the western front, in the early morning darkness Friday.

They fire-bombed, strafed, rocketed and bombed allied positions by the light of parachute flares. Throughout the attack they roared through a sky streaked by tracers and the bursts of anti-aircraft fire from U. N. guns.

An allied division commander called it "a stunt to improve Chinese morale."

Earlier a tiny biplane strafed Kimpo airfield near Seoul and bombed the city itself. The "bombs" were reported to be

Anglo Staff Is Warned To Prepare

Iran Government Gives British Workers Week to Decide Whether They'll Work

Same Pay Offered

Britons, Others Would Get Privileges as Before

Tehran, Iran, June 22 (AP)—British employes of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company got ready today to pull out of Iran as increasing Iranian pressure threatened to break down British operation of that giant firm.

A. E. C. Drake, AIOC manager at the great Abadan refinery, warned all his British staff—some 3,000—to get their passports ready for a hasty exit.

It was the final preparation for a general British departure, if threatened disorders begin, or if Iran continues ot press for immediate turnover of operations to her newly nationalized oil industry.

The British predict the showdown will come at Abadan within the next few days. They expect Iranian Oil Company officials will ask British technicians to sign agreements acknowledging they are employes of the Iranian government at the same terms they have under AIOC contracts.

The Iranian government today gave British AIOC employes one week to decide whether they want to continue to work at their jobs under the newly organized Iranian National Oil Company.

Same Pay Offered

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatimi said Britons and other foreigners wishing ot work with the national company would get the same pay and privileges they received under AIOC contracts.

A British Embassy spokesman said yesterday he doubted whether many Britons wanted to work for the Iranian government. AIOC officials have said privately the company can transfer its employes here to other AIOC affiliates in Iraq and Kuwait.

The AIOC negotiating team left Tehran airport this morning for London.

Premier Mohammed Mossadegh, kingpin of the drive to take over AIOC operations under the nationalization law he pushed through Parliament 12 weeks ago, received a solid vote of confidence from Iranian deputies yesterday.

Hopes Are Chilled

The vote chilled western hopes that many legislators had soured on Mossadegh's "no compromise" stand toward the British-owned company which has run the Iranian oil industry for 50 years.

The British consul in Abadan sent out letters today urging quick completion of "Operation Heartbreak"—the evacuation of British women and children from the oil field area.

"Heartbreak" is the name British AIOC employes have given the hitherto voluntary departure of their wives and children from Iran. Some 150 dependents still remain. Many of the children were born here and have never seen England.

The letters urging the British families to pull out was issued on instructions from the British ambassador, Sir Francis Shepherd.

Would Carry On

Drake said his Abadan staff would carry on as long as it could, but declared they would have to clear out if Iranian interference made their work impossible.

Asked how long he thought the staff might continue, Drake said "probably until the Iranian directors find out I am not carrying out their orders. Then they'll fire me, I suppose."

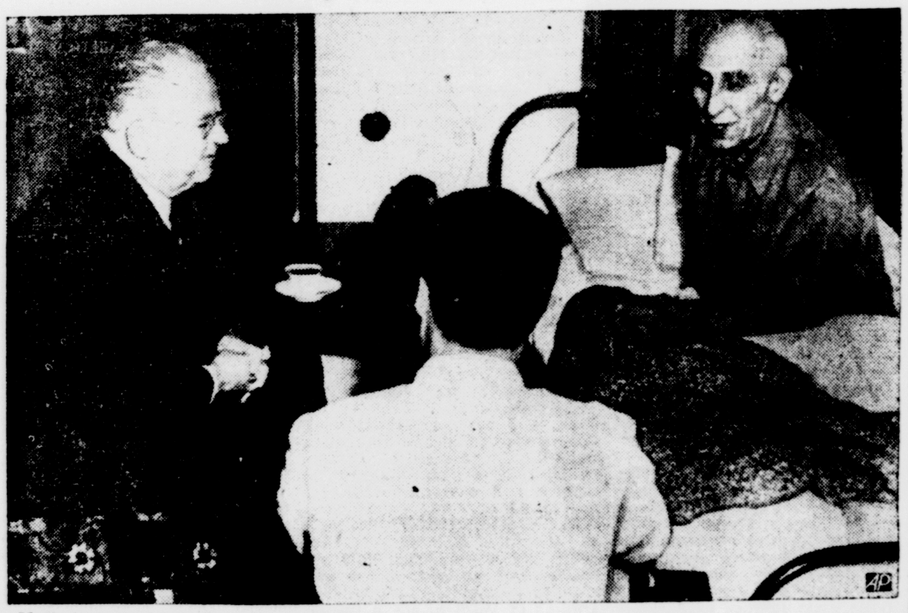

The Iranians sent Drake nine letters full of instructions yesterday. They asked him to pay over all cash receipts to the Iranians

House Democrats Alerted For Vote on Tax Increase

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Administration leaders alerted all House Democrats to be on hand today for a decision on the $7,200,000,000 tax increase bill which is hotly opposed by most Republican members.

After the final five hours of debate, scheduled to end at 3 p. m. (E.S.T.), the Republicans planned to move that the record-breaking revenue measure be returned to the Ways and Means Committee for rewriting.

Rep. Percy Priest of Tennessee, whose job as majority whip is to see that all the Democrats are on hand for crucial votes, told a reporter:

"There's no question but that we can pass the bill, but the vote on the motion to recommit may be close."

On that tally, the Democratic leadership expects to drop not more than six to ten Democratic votes, and is hopeful of picking up almost that many Republicans in favor of the bill. On that basis, they figure the current Democratic majority of 33 members ought to be sufficient to dispatch the legislation to the Senate.

Further unpredictable delay would result if the bill were recommitted. The Ways and Means group has been studying the 1951 tax bill since early February.

It calls for a $2,847,000,000 increase for individuals over a full year's operations, $2,855,000,000 more corporate income and excess profits taxes, and a boost of $1,252,000,000 in excise taxes on such things as whisky, cigarettes, gasoline and automobiles. The balance of the revenue increase would be achieved by a variety of miscellaneous changes, including

Plant thieves, who must have had a truck or car at their disposal, succeeded in stealing more than 20 plants from the porches of homes in the Maple avenue district last Thursday night during a heavy rainstorm. They also helped themselves to two umbrellas. Since all the plants were potted in jardinieres or antique containers, it is judged that they were stolen for the value of the containers. Police are carrying on an investigation and so far no clues have developed as to the thefts. Among those home owners who had plants or pottery taken are John Spadaro and Mrs. Erhardt Rosenberger of Hermance street and around the corner on Maple avenue, Mrs. Clarence Hoornbeek, Mrs. Helen DuBois, Mrs. Mary E. Marvin, Mrs. Wm. L. Douglas and Elias Freer on Yankee Place.

With centralization still an uncertainty, the board of education has about completed plans for reopening the schools of the village next fall as the responsibility of District 29. While the preparations could be adopted by the central board, it appears to be certain that centralization cannot become effective by July 1, because of a Supreme Court injunction secured by the Tri-Valley district earlier this year. The kindergarten, formerly housed at the Talmud Torah, will be returned to the Maple avenue building, where suitable accommodations will be made for a kindergarten class.

Scar-Faced Man Sought in Death Of State Trooper

Albany, N. Y., June 24 (AP)—A scar-faced man of medium build was sought today as the killer of State Police Cpl. Arthur M. Diffendale.

Police broadcast a 14-state alarm for the man, described as about five feet, nine inches tall, between 155 and 160 pounds, and about 40 years old, with brown hair greying at the temples, and a long, thin face with a scar about a half or three-quarters of an inch in length under his left eye.

Deputy Inspector Everett C. Updike said an Albany man gave that description of a cattle truck driver he said he had seen here three times within the last three weeks. Updike declined to identify the man who made the report but said he was unemployed cook.

The man said he had talked with the truck driver, who is believed to have been an interstate cattle thief.

The description is more detailed than — but generally the same—that given by persons who were near the scene when the 33-year-old Diffendale was shot to death nine days ago on a road near Oneonta.

Reform Jewry Reported Growing

New London, Conn., June 22 (AP)—A segment of American jewry which has cast off the ancient dietary laws and other orthodox practices is growing at a record pace.

This growth was reported today by Dr. Maurice N. Eisendrath to the 62nd annual convention of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, the country's largest rabbinical body.

"Reform Judaism is experiencing a resurgency unprecedented in its 77-year-old history," he said.

Dr. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, said more and more believers in Judaism are accepting the less strict mode of worship.

"Especially young people," he said, "are looking for an affirmative faith to hold on to—a faith which is attuned to their needs and hopes and emphasizes the spirit of Judaism rather than the strict adherence to traditional observances."

Dr. Eisendrath, whose group represents reform congregations, said more than 60 new reform congregations have been organized in the past three years, compared to about that many in the previous five years.

There now are 427 reform congregations, including many of the nation's largest Jewish temples and synagogues.

Mexican Boys' Town

McAllen, Tex. (AP)—The people of the Lower Rio Grande Valley are going to help Mexico establish a Ciudad de los Ninos—a Boys' Town patterned after the famed boys' home in Nebraska. Father Carlos Alvarez—"Mexico's Father Flanagan" — launched his campaign for a Mexican Boys' Town after seeing the movie "Boys' Town." The Mexican counterpart will be in Villa Guadalupe, on the outskirts of Monterrey. President Miguel Aleman's wife laid the cornerstone for the first building recently. So far about 6,000,000 pesos has been raisd. Two million more are needed.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 22 (AP)—Lower prices were paid all around for stocks today in a fairly quiet end-of-the-week market.

Losses ran as much as $2 a share with oils and motors showing the greatest heaviness.

Chrysler fell nearly $2 and was fairly actively traded at times as a reflection of trader disappointment over the lack of dividend action from Chrysler directors.

Directors met yesterday and adjourned without announcement. At this time in the past three years the directors acted on the third quarter dividend. The stock opened off ⅞ at 68½ on a block of 1,500 shares, and thereafter moved still lower.

There was no selling pressure in the motor section as a result of Chrysler weakness. Nor, for that matter, did selling of any size crop up in any major division, but all headed lower.

The volume of trading was expanded by the movement of several large blocks. Southern Co., a holding company for four southern utilities, traded in a block of 25,000 shares off ⅛ at 11. And a block of 10,000 shares of Electric and Musical Industries, a radio-TV and electronic organization, traded at 2⅛ up ⅛.

Stocks going lower included Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Radio Corp., American Telephone, American Smelting, Union Carbide, American Can, International Paper, New York Central, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), Gulf Oil, Cities Service and United Air Lines.

mortar shells. There were four of them.

Fires at Bomber

Another unidentified plane, believed to be a jet, fired at a UN bomber 80 miles from the Manchurian border about midnight. No damage was inflicted.

U.N. fighters and bombers hit back hard at air strips in North Korea to keep the Communists from using them in support of an expected limited Chinese offensive.

Sixteen American Shooting Star jets blasted Sinuiju airfield near the Manchurian border, Friday in the first attack on that strip since 300 planes raided it May 9. No planes were on the field Friday. Night bombers hit three other fields.

American warships got in on Thursday's ground fighting—all limited to the eastern front.

400 Rounds Fired

The U. S. heavy cruiser Toledo and supporting destroyers fired more than 400 rounds in a night-long bombardment supporting troops fighting near the coast. Some of the Toledo's eight inch shells burst 11 miles inland.

Farther inland, North Korean attacks twice forced Allied forces to pull back in two attacks north of Inje. One attack came at midday, the other in the early evening.

More stubborn resistance was reported by AP Correspondent Nate Polowetzky in other sections where there had been little action before. Failure of telephone lines between Tokyo and 8th Army headquarters delayed reports.

Polowetzky said patrols tried to find out the intention of Communists along the west, where officers have predicted an attack by Monday's anniversary of the war. But briefing officers said they failed to find the Reds in strength.

Robert Rossen Called

Washington, June 22 (AP) — Screen producer Robert Rossen, whose picture "All the King's Men" won the Academy Award, has been called to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee next Monday. With movie actor J. Edward Bromberg, he is scheduled to testify in the committee's nearly completed investigation of Communist influences in Hollywood. Both Bromberg and Rossen have been described by previous witnesses. As one-time Communist party members in the screen capital. Writer Richard Collins said he thought Rossen left the party in 1947.

Dr. Fleming Resigns

New York, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The Rev. Dr. Frederick S. Fleming, rector of the Trinity Protestant Episcopal Church since 1932, has resigned his post effective October 1 because of ill health. A trustee of both Columbia University and the Cathedral of St. John the Divine here, Dr. Fleming is also chairman of the standing committee of the General Theological Seminary. Dr. Fleming's decision to retire was on the insistence of physicians. Three years ago he underwent an operation for the removal of a vocal chord and had never regained the full use of his voice.

Otis Sentence Is Dropped by Court; Other Cases Heard

Donald Otis, 19, Kingston, was sentenced to the Reception Center, Elmira, for classification to a state institution, but execution of that sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation to his pastor, the Rev. E. L. Witte by County Judge John M. Cashin in county court today. Otis had entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny, first degree, for the taking of a motor vehicle from the Kingston Coal Company property. Frederick Stang appeared for Otis and asked that leniency be extended and the defendant be given a chance to make good. A plea for leniency had also been made by the Rev. Mr. Witte. Bail in the case was exonerated and a second indictment was dismissed.

Louis Jacobi, who had previously entered a plea of guilty to attempted assault and came up for sentence, asked permission to withdraw his guilty plea and reenter a plea of innocent. Andrew J. Cook, Jr., who appeared for Jacobi said his firm was withdrawing from the case and he asked that defendant's bail be continued and that a jury trial be granted, as requested by defendant. The case was set down for September. Jacobi was instructed to get another attorney and his plea of innocent was entered.

Enters Guilty Plea

Francis Colton, charged with burglary, third degree and unlawful entry, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Thomas Saccoman appeared for defendant. Colton said he had a job, would make restitution by paying for a pot stove which was one of the articles stolen, and would also return two blankets to the owner. He was sentenced to 49 days in jail, that being the time already served and he said he would leave town and take a job offered and support his family which was in need of his assistance. He is employed as a cook and mess man in the army transport service.

Dallas Walker, Kingston, who was charged with an assault upon his wife, entered a plea of guilty to assault, third degree, and was sentenced to a year in jail. Francis Martocci appeared for Walker and said that except for public intoxication charges, Walker had a good record, was a steady worker and could get a job if placed on probation. Judge Cashin, after imposing the year in jail, suspended the execution of sentence and directed that Walker be placed on probation for the full three-year period. One of the conditions of probation was that Walker keep sober.

Luther Hitt, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Robert Ortale appeared for Hitt and Judge Cashin will impose sentence Tuesday, June 26, at 10 a. m.

Jurors were excused for the term with the thanks of the court. Court recessed to chambers and will convene again on Tuesday at 10 a. m., for further criminal matters.

Irish, assisted by Mrs. Deyo W. Johnson, Mrs. Robert Bradford, Mrs. Richard Eck and others. A varied program of activities will be offered.

Plant thieves, who must have had a truck or car at their disposal, succeeded in stealing more than 20 plants from the porches of homes in the Maple avenue district last Thursday night during a heavy rainstorm. They also helped themselves to two umbrellas. Since all the plants were potted in jardinieres or antique containers, it is judged that they were stolen for the value of the containers. Police are carrying on an investigation and so far no clues have developed as to the thefts. Among those home owners who had plants or pottery taken are John Spadaro and Mrs. Erhardt Rosenberger of Hermance street and around the corner on Maple avenue, Mrs. Clarence Hoornbeek, Mrs. Helen DuBois, Mrs. Mary E. Marvin, Mrs. Wm. L. Douglas and Elias Freer on Yankee Place.

With centralization still an uncertainty, the board of education has about completed plans for reopening the schools of the village next fall as the responsibility of District 29. While the preparations could be adopted by the central board, it appears to be certain that centralization cannot become effective by July 1, because of a Supreme Court injunction secured by the Tri-Valley district earlier this year. There will be a change in the outside housing arrangements for the coming year. Principal John C. Scar-Faced Man Sought in Death Of State Trooper

Police broadcast a 14-state alarm for the man, described as about five feet, nine inches tall, between 155 and 160 pounds, and about 40 years old, with brown hair greying at the temples, and a long, thin face with a scar about a half or three-quarters of an inch in length under his left eye.

Deputy Inspector Everett C. Updike said an Albany man gave that description of a cattle truck driver he said he had seen here three times within the last three weeks. Updike declined to identify the man who made the report but said he was unemployed cook.

The man said he had talked with the truck driver, who is believed to have been an interstate cattle thief.

The description is more detailed than — but generally the same—that given by persons who were near the scene when the 33-year-old Diffendale was shot to death nine days ago on a road near Oneonta.

Reform Jewry Reported Growing

New London, Conn., June 22 (AP)—A segment of American jewry which has cast off the ancient dietary laws and other orthodox practices is growing at a record pace.

This growth was reported today by Dr. Maurice N. Eisendrath to the 62nd annual convention of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, the country's largest rabbinical body.

"Reform Judaism is experiencing a resurgency unprecedented in its 77-year-old history," he said.

Dr. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations, said more and more believers in Judaism are accepting the less strict mode of worship.

"Especially young people," he said, "are looking for an affirmative faith to hold on to—a faith which is attuned to their needs and hopes and emphasizes the spirit of Judaism rather than the strict adherence to traditional observances."

Dr. Eisendrath, whose group represents reform congregations, said more than 60 new reform congregations have been organized in the past three years, compared to about that many in the previous five years.

There now are 427 reform congregations, including many of the nation's largest Jewish temples and synagogues.

Financial and Commercial

New York, June 22 (AP)—Lower prices were paid all around for stocks today in a fairly quiet end-of-the-week market.

Losses ran as much as $2 a share with oils and motors showing the greatest heaviness.

Chrysler fell nearly $2 and was fairly actively traded at times as a reflection of trader disappointment over the lack of dividend action from Chrysler directors.

Directors met yesterday and adjourned without announcement. At this time in the past three years the directors acted on the third quarter dividend. The stock opened off ⅞ at 68½ on a block of 1,500 shares, and thereafter moved still lower.

There was no selling pressure in the motor section as a result of Chrysler weakness. Nor, for that matter, did selling of any size crop up in any major division, but all headed lower.

The volume of trading was expanded by the movement of several large blocks. Southern Co., a holding company for four southern utilities, traded in a block of 25,000 shares off ⅛ at 11. And a block of 10,000 shares of Electric and Musical Industries, a radio-TV and electronic organization, traded at 2⅛ up ⅛.

Stocks going lower included Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Radio Corp., American Telephone, American Smelting, Union Carbide, American Can, International Paper, New York Central, Illinois Central, Standard Oil (N.J.), Gulf Oil, Cities Service and United Air Lines.

Quotations by Morgan Davis & Co., members of the New York Stock Exchange, 60 Beaver street, New York city; branch office, 41 John street, R. B. Osterhoudt, manager.

mortar shells. There were four of them.

Fires at Bomber

Another unidentified plane, believed to be a jet, fired at a UN bomber 80 miles from the Manchurian border about midnight. No damage was inflicted.

U.N. fighters and bombers hit back hard at air strips in North Korea to keep the Communists from using them in support of an expected limited Chinese offensive.

Sixteen American Shooting Star jets blasted Sinuiju airfield near the Manchurian border, Friday in the first attack on that strip since 300 planes raided it May 9. No planes were on the field Friday. Night bombers hit three other fields.

American warships got in on Thursday's ground fighting—all limited to the eastern front.

400 Rounds Fired

The U. S. heavy cruiser Toledo and supporting destroyers fired more than 400 rounds in a night-long bombardment supporting troops fighting near the coast. Some of the Toledo's eight inch shells burst 11 miles inland.

Farther inland, North Korean attacks twice forced Allied forces to pull back in two attacks north of Inje. One attack came at midday, the other in the early evening.

More stubborn resistance was reported by AP Correspondent Nate Polowetzky in other sections where there had been little action before. Failure of telephone lines between Tokyo and 8th Army headquarters delayed reports.

Polowetzky said patrols tried to find out the intention of Communists along the west, where officers have predicted an attack by Monday's anniversary of the war. But briefing officers said they failed to find the Reds in strength.

Robert Rossen Called

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Screen producer Robert Rossen, whose picture "All the King's Men" won the Academy Award, has been called to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee next Monday. With movie actor J. Edward Bromberg, he is scheduled to testify in the committee's nearly completed investigation of Communist influences in Hollywood. Both Bromberg and Rossen have been described by previous witnesses. As one-time Communist party members in the screen capital. Writer Richard Collins said he thought Rossen left the party in 1947.

Otis Sentence Is Dropped by Court; Other Cases Heard

Donald Otis, 19, Kingston, was sentenced to the Reception Center, Elmira, for classification to a state institution, but execution of that sentence was suspended and he was placed on probation to his pastor, the Rev. E. L. Witte by County Judge John M. Cashin in county court today. Otis had entered a plea of guilty to grand larceny, first degfee, for the taking of a motor vehicle from the Kingston Coal Company property. Frederick Stang appeared for Otis and asked that leniency be extended and the defendant be given a chance to make good. A plea for leniency had also been made by the Rev. Mr. Witte. Bail in the case was exonerated and a second indictment was dismissed.

Louis Jacobi, who had previously entered a plea of guilty to attempted assault and came up for sentence, asked permission to withdraw his guilty plea and reenter a plea of innocent. Andrew J. Cook, Jr., who appeared for Jacobi said his firm was withdrawing from the case and he asked that defendant's bail be continued and that a jury trial be granted, as requested by defendant. The case was set down for September. Jacobi was instructed to get another attorney and his plea of innocent was entered.

Enters Guilty Plea

Francis Colton, charged with burglary, third degree and unlawful entry, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Thomas Saccoman appeared for defendant. Colton said he had a job, would make restitution by paying for a pot stove which was one of the articles stolen, and would also return two blankets to the owner. He was sentenced to 49 days in jail, that being the time already served and he said he would leave town and take a job offered and support his family which was in need of his assistance. He is employed as a cook and mess man in the army transport service.

Dallas Walker, Kingston, who was charged with an assault upon his wife, entered a plea of guilty to assault, third degree, and was sentenced to a year in jail. Francis Martocci appeared for Walker and said that except for public intoxication charges, Walker had a good record, was a steady worker and could get a job if placed on probation. Judge Cashin, after imposing the year in jail, suspended the execution of sentence and directed that Walker be placed on probation for the full three-year period. One of the conditions of probation was that Walker keep sober.

Luther Hitt, charged with burglary, third degree, and unlawful entry, entered a plea of guilty to unlawful entry. Robert Ortale appeared for Hitt and Judge Cashin will impose sentence Tuesday, June 26, at 10 a. m.

Jurors were excused for the term with the thanks of the court. Court recessed to chambers and will convene again on Tuesday at 10 a. m., for further criminal matters.

Expensive Funeral

Tokyo, June 22 (AP)—Dollar-shy Japan today gave its Empress Dowager a $222,000 funeral. Emperor Hirohito's mother, the Empress Dowager Sadako, was placed in the imperial mausoleum after a day of pomp and ceremony that had some Japanese asking if such a costly tribute was necessary.

When you get a bad result in ordinary rubber bridge you can often mumble an excuse that will sound plausible. In tournament play, however, your excuse may be disproved by what happens when the same cards are handled by other players.

For example, today's hand was played in a team match. In the first room East put in an overcall of two clubs. South promptly doubled, and East took a loss of 800 points.

"Very unlucky," said East. "However, the chances are that the same thing will happen at the other table. If they don't bid clubs there, South will get to three no-trump and will score 600 points. So my bid won't cost more than 200 points—if that much."

A nice try at an excuse, but not good enough. In the other room East did not bid clubs. But West made the killing lead of the ten of clubs anyway. His reason for the choice is quite instructive.

West had one of the most hopeless hands ever held on land or sea. He knew that he couldn't beat three no-trump unless his partner had a very good hand. Why hadn't East bid if he had such a fine hand?

This was the core of the problem. East might have bid with a good hand and a suit that could be shown at the level of one. East might be afraid to bid if his only decent suit would have to be shown at the level of two. This, of course, was exactly what had happened. In short, West reasoned that the contract was probably unbeatable unless his partner had a good club suit and a hand that was just short of a safe bid.

When West led the ten of clubs, East signaled enthusiastically with the seven. South ducked, and West continued the suit. East put up the jack, and South won with the king. South could not make his contract without developing either hearts or diamonds. In either case East was bound to gain the lead, whereupon his clubs defeated the contract.

This result made the first East player look pretty sick. He had lost 800 points at his table on cards that had won 100 points in the other room.

HIGHER TAXES AHEAD

Two things seem certain about the new tax measure which is in the formative stage in Washington. The taxes will be less than President Truman asked for and they will be more than most of us would like to pay. The increases will be felt in many forms, but excise taxes and increased income taxes will probably affect the most people.

Income taxes may be hiked twelve and a half per cent. To the wage earner this will be no small matter. Automobiles, gasoline, liquor and beer will be more costly because if higher federal taxes. It is unlikely that any part of the proposed tax measure will become law before September or October but the prospect of the increases is not expected to brighten vacations.

The new taxes are to do a two-fold job. They will help to pay for the cost of rearming ourselves and our allies on a pay-as-you-go basis. They will also take some money out of circulation and thus, the government economists hope, help to prevent inflation from becoming worse.

No one likes to pay taxes. But defense is costly. The need to curb inflation is obvious. The new measures may not succeed completely but they may serve to be a partial check. This would be some consolation to the individual who faces the unpleasant prospect of paying the highest taxes in the history of the country.

STUDY OF GEOGRAPHY

Results of a nationwide survey of college students by the New York Times indicate a surprising extent of ignorance of the United States and the world. Slightly more than forty-five per cent of those questioned were able to give the approximate population of the United States; only about seventeen per cent knew how many people live in the Soviet Union.

Questions as to the principal exports and imports of the nations of the world received even fewer correct answers. At a period in history when nations are becoming more and more interrelated through trade and mutual need this lack of geographic knowledge among college students is alarming. Most of the world problems which call for understanding and solution are the result of geographic or economic factors or are influenced by them.

To place all the blame on our educational systems for this lack of interest in the make-up of the world would be oversimplification. Geography is one of the first subjects taught in school and all colleges have advanced courses in this study. It may be that a lack of emphasis on the related subjects has led to this neglect of geography.

It is the job of the schools to motivate learning. The mere facts taught in the classroom are easily forgotten unless a desire to retain them and to add to them becomes ingrained in the student. Educators might do well to point out more often and more forcefully the permanent importance and the special timely significance of the study of geography.

INTERNATIONAL CAPITAL

A piece of Europe which would belong to no one European state but to all of them in common is the next goal of the French and German diplomats who have been striving for the adoption of the Schuman plan for pooling the coal and steel of the Western nations of the Continent. They are now urging that the administrators of the Schuman plan have a headquarters in territory that would be neither French nor German, nor the land of any other country. It would be as separate as Vatican City or the small states of Andorra, San Marino and Liechtenstein which have weathered all sorts of international storms and preserved their independence. This aim would be to create an isolated political entity like our own District of Columbia.

The idea is that the administrators would be more likely to carry on their task in an international spirit, without trying to forward the interests of any one country, in the sphere of such an independent zone.

American experience has shown the desirability of having the national capital in a separate region, not part of any one state. It seems like a good idea for Europe.

Human nature is strange. A man who saves his money and spends it cautiously is likely to consider himself thrifty while he regards similar behavior in his neighbor as miserliness.

Time and money are alike and yet unlike. They both disappear in a hurry, but only one is always in abundance tomorrow.

'These Days'

STEEL

The principal element in the war potential of any country is, in these days, steel capacity. The real power of the United States rests upon the fact that it has the plant and raw materials to produce 96,696,000 tons of steel every year. As compared to the United States, Soviet Russia has a capacity of 26,500,000 tons. It is, however, important to note that while Soviet Russia produced no steel in 1917, it is now in second place. Furthermore, in a totalitarian country, the government is in a position to use the entire output of any commodity without the slightest regard to consumers' necessities.

Comparing the western powers with the Soviet satellites, these are the figures:

Western Powers

	Tons
United States	96,696,000
United Kingdom	18,078,000
Western Germany	13,101,000
France	9,108,000
Japan	4,970,000
Belgium	3,863,000
Canada	3,270,000
Luxemburg	2,560,000
Italy	2,503,000
Saar	1,925,000
Australia	1,519,000
	157,593,000

Soviet States

	Tons
U.S.S.R.	26,500,000
Czechoslovakia	2,850,000
Poland	2,525,000
Hungary	875,000
Austria	1,017,000
	33,767,000

If to this total is added the 1,071,000 tons of Sweden, a country that Soviet Russia can seize quickly, the total can be raised to 34,838,000.

Suppose Russia were able to take all the steel production on the continent of Europe, it would come to 68,802,000 tons, still considerably under Anglo-American production. This, however, presupposes that no European and no American plants would be bombed out of existence. Actually, it must be assumed that the whole of the western European industry would be bombed out of existence as soon as war started and that some of our plants would suffer

The steel production of the Anglo-American group alone amounts to:

	Tons
United States	96,696,000
United Kingdom	18,078,000
Canada	3,270,000
Australia	1,519,000
	119,563,000

No matter how you look at these figures, the United States has, during the past six years of the cold war produced roughly 50 per cent of the total steel production of the world which is 194,154,000 tons.

When it comes to availability of the raw material, iron ore, 75 per cent of the known, usable supply is held by five countries, the United States, France, Sweden, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, with the United States far in the lead, and with nearby Canada fast moving into the field. The Mesabi range of Minnesota and Michigan iron mountains have produced year after year between one-fifth and one-fourth of the world's supply. The Birmingham, Alabama, ore-field is very important. New fields are being developed in Chile, Venezuela and Brazil.

The importance of this data lies in the single fact that the United States can continue to hold its lead as a world power, in spite of the astonishing errors of its policy-makers, as long as it is able to continue to hold the lead in steel. A national steel policy is as essential as a national diplomatic policy.

YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE

There is no group that knows more about illness and health, life and death, than our insurance medical examiners. The longer they can keep policyholders alive and well, the longer will these policyholders continue to pay their annual premiums. This is the reason that insurance companies offer a free medical or physical examination at stated periods and why so many policy holders take advantage of these examinations, which help to keep them in good health and postpone serious illness and perhaps death.

The commonest health subject discussed today is blood pressure because there are so many cases of heart stroke (coronary thrombosis), due to high blood pressure and hardening of the weak-walled blood vessels.

The latest contribution to our health and happiness in recent years from these life insurance examiners is their finding and announcement that their own figures as to the normal blood pressure have been too low. The middle-aged man's normal blood pressure, they say, should be placed at 160 instead of the present 140. Thus, an individual with blood pressure of 160, who has been living almost the life of a heart invalid, can now relax.

The president of the American Heart Association, Dr. Howard B. Sprague, in a booklet published by the Public Affairs Committee entitled "Your Blood Pressure and Your Arteries," states, "The tensions of our times will take their toll of our leaders unless the people under pressure take certain precautions. The pressure is on again. Business, government, and industry are marshalling strength to build the country's defenses. The age bracket from 32 on roughly corresponds to the ages which high blood pressure develops."

These precautions do not include sitting down and doing nothing. Dr. Sprague points out that most people with high blood pressure can do more for themselves than can be accomplished by drugs or surgical cutting of nerves to reduce pressure. First, face your worries, as we all have them, and if you don't know the answer, talk to your doctor.

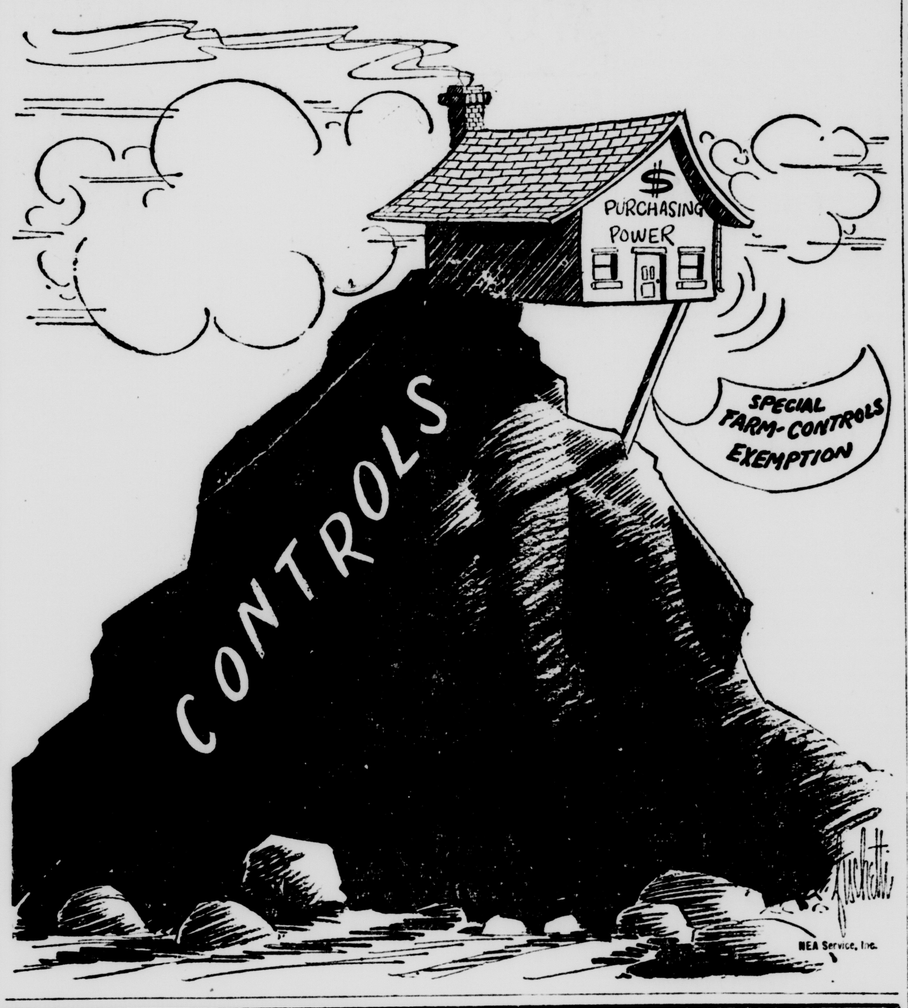

Some of the few short rules are: (1) Walk, never run, upstairs. (2) Quit anything before you get overtired. (3) Relax or nap twice a day. (4) Eat four or five light meals instead of three heavier meals. (5) Go easy on coffee and tobacco. (6) If possible, quit work early and exercise outdoors for an hour. (7) Go to bed well before midnight. (8) Keep your weight normal. (9) Argue and worry as little as possible.

House Built on a Rock---Well, Almost

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson has sent letters to about 20 government agencies cautioning them on one of the worst scandals of mobilization—unjustified tax amortization.

This is the system whereby manufacturers are permitted to write off the cost of a new factory for tax purposes in five years instead of 30. While this tax concession is a big boost to war production, a House subcommittee headed by Congressman Porter Hardy of Virginia recently issued a scathing blast against tax favortism for certain firms.

After issuing the report, the committee called on Mobilizer Wilson and made a flat-footed demand that he change some of the personnel who had handed out tax concessions, among them Frank Creedon of the National Production Authority. Creedon was revealed by this column in 1946 as the official who permitted the Tanforan race track to be rebuilt when housing materials were scarce, and who permitted construction work on a burlesque theatre in Columbus, Ohio, and the Burger Brewing Company in Cincinnati. Despite this, he was placed in a key spot in the NPA, where he has now come in for criticism by the Hardy committee.

Urged by Congressman Hardy to shake up the personnel who handle tax amortization, Mobilizer Wilson hesitated. Noting the hesitation, Congressman Hardy snapped:

"Mr. Wilson, we are here to work out suggestions in a friendly way. But if we don't get cooperation, we will have to shift our target."

Wilson looked up over his glasses, a little startled at this implied threat that he would be next to come under the committee's guns.

"I agree that we will have to make some changes," Wilson finally replied. "But the problem is to get the right men to serve."

The committee, which included Jack Shelley of California, Dick Bolling of Missouri and Walter Riehlman of New York, went away believing that Wilson will improve the situation.

Smuggling to Russia

Inside fact about the war materials being smuggled into Russia is that some of the biggest German firms are guilty.

This is confirmed by a confidential report given the State Department by U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy who estimates that $250,0000,000 worth of ball bearings, chemicals, carbon black, nickel, machine tools, airplane parts, steel tubing, bomb cases and scrap iron is moving behind the Iron Curtain every year.

McCloy's probe reveals that the stage was set for mass exports to Russia at a secret meeting in Dusseldorf in November, 1949, when an unnamed East German Communist met with Ruhr industrialists and promised them an unlimited market for steel products and machine tools in China, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Hungary and Austria. Present at this meeting were a number of Ruhr manufacturers who played ball with Hitler.

The evasion of American prohibitions against shipments to the Iron Curtain became so open that Ruhr businessmen took advertisements in eastern German Communist newspapers, as I reported from Germany last winter. At least two of these firms, Guetthoffnungs Werke and Demag, both large recipients of Marshall Plan aid, advertised in the Communist press. One newspaper even reported in detail how manufacturers might evade U. S. restrictions on shipping behind the Iron Curtain.

Truman Will Veto

President Truman has privately advised congressional leaders that he will veto all appropriation bills that have been slashed by the so-called "horizontal," 10 per cent, across-the-board method.

Such a veto is extremely difficult for any president because to hold up an appropriation bill may mean that a large part of the government will be stymied for lack of funds. However, Truman talked as if he meant business.

He pointed out that the technique of GOP Senator Ferguson of Michigan and other economyites who want to prune federal expenditures without the bother of considering appropriations item by item operates more like a scythe than a pruning knife, since worthy, or even vital items must suffer the same percentage slash as less important items.

The President added that he intended to veto any or all appropriations reduced in this manner even if it meant tying up funds for the government's entire domestic program. In that event, he emphasized, the responsibility would be on Congress, not on him.

"I have decided to do this for two reasons," Truman explained. "One is that Congress is not doing its duty when it arbitrarily reduces an appropriation by the horizontal method. The other reason is that cutting funds for the executive departments in this way may be unconstitutional.

"I am, doing my duty when I send carefully drawn budget estimates to the Congress on what we need to run the government. Congress is evading its duty when it makes an across-the-board reduction in these estimates. Its job is to consider each item on its merits and make specific cuts."

Washington Pipeline

The Defense Department is preparing a bill for Congress, freezing all present reservists in the armed forces reserves. However, World War 2 veterans will not be called except in case of a congressional declaration of emergency. . . . Senator Wiley of Wisconsin has asked the Labor Department to investigate racketeering in the labor unions and to assist the Senate Crime Committee in uncovering hoodlums who infiltrated into the labor movement. Wiley cited the recent series of killings, bombings and beatings in the Chicago Teamsters' Union. . . . Pat Hurley, wartime ambassador to China, tried to get appointed special counsel to the Republican senators investigating the MacArthur controversy. He offered to prepare the case against Secretary of State Acheson and to supply them with embarrassing questions to ask Acheson. However, the Republicans decided they could handle Acheson alone. . . . GOP strategy on Acheson has now been reversed. Instead of trying to prove Acheson appeased the Communists, Republican senators ironically are now accusing Acheson of provoking the Korean war against the Communists. . . . Maine's Sen. Owen Brewster is demanding an investigation of the army engineers' Boston office because Maine contractors are not getting their share. Brewster's son, Charles, is counsel for the big T. W. Cunningham Construction Company of Bangor.

Psychological Board Will Issue Policies Free of State Department Handicaps

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 22—A profound evolution, if not change, in American policy is represented by President Truman's appointment of what is called a "psychological strategy board." It will attempt to influence the peoples—rather than the governments—of other countries.

Although composed of representatives of the Department of State, the Department of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the new agency reports directly to the President. This means that at last an independent institution free from the handicaps of the State Department's formal diplomacy can operate freely in the field of what used to be called "psychological warfare."

It is to be noted that the head of the Central Intelligence Agency is to be a member of the board and that members from other government departments may be added as the work progresses.

Gordon Gray, who used to be secretary of the army, has been chosen to head it up and the outline thus far makes it appear that the objective is to combine some of the tasks that were performed by the Office of Strategic Services during the last war and some of the duties of the Office of War Information.

Broadly speaking, the purpose is to utilize the principle of infiltration which has been availed of by the Russians inside western countries, but without stooping to the methods and practices of the Communists.

The United States has too long neglected this field of operation. It has been delayed due to the tenacity with which Secretary of State Acheson has opposed any such broad activity unless it could be controlled entirely by his department. He honestly believed it might lead to complications for the State Department. But the famous Formosa Document, which was admittedly an effort to abandon truth in order to accomplish what was believed at the time to be a desirable objective, shows how such tactics can boomerang against the State Department.

The new board probably will not operate any information service. The "Voice of America" probably will go on functioning as it is but with directives of policy from the psychological board that may affect its programs.

Basically, the new board, however, cannot succeed merely because interdepartmental machinery has been set up to direct it. Something vital is lacking. It is the failure of the basic policy of the government itself to furnish the sinews of a good strategy.

It will be useless for the strategy board to try to make effective use of polfcies which are transparently insincere or inconsistent.

No board of strategy can do anything if the President and secretary of state pursue policies that are faulty. For the State Department to favor the Nationalist government of China one day and to belittle it the next day will not enable the new psychological board to win friends for the United States in Asia. There has to be a firmness and a straightforwardness about national and international policy which will enable a strategy board to feel it is on firm ground when it undertakes a campaign to persuade the peoples of other countries as to basic truths.

Whether any psychological board can succeed in the absence of a competent leadership in international affairs is problematical. The Department of State today does not have the confidence of a United American people. The President has wrecked bipartisan cooperation. If bipartisan handling of foreign policy could be restored, if the American people could be reunited behind a leadership in world policy that they feel they can trust, then a psychological board could do an effective job inside other countries. The trouble will not be with the board but with the ingredients of strategy made available to it by the higher-ups in government itself.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

On a recent morning after being out all night, a jury in the Superior Court in Tucson, Ariz., reported that it had been unable to agree in the case of Bryce H. Wilson, formerly the county attorney and prosecutor, a Democrat, who had been charged with accepting the earnings of a prostitute, conspiring with criminals to permit them to violate the law, and bribery. The case probably will not be tried again, but Wilson, a young pugnacious man-about-town, has been grievously hurt in his reputation by the presentation of a sound-recording of a filthy dialog between a man and a woman. The man's voice was alleged to be Wilson's, the woman's that of a prostitute. The jury split on the possibility that the recording may have been faked altogether or faked in certain parts.

Shortly before Wilson went to trial, Jerry Martin, Democrat, the sheriff who held office during Wilson's term as county attorney, pleaded guilty of conspiring to permit the illegal operation of slot machines. Further charges of accepting bribes and accepting the earnings of a prostitute were not prosecuted. One of his deputies is still under indictment in the same scandal.

Tucson is the second largest city in Arizona.

These cases are but the latest in a long chain of disgraceful episodes in the corruption of government in a state which is still, in economic fact, a territory and a ward and dependency of the federal government. Arizona, in a very crude way, duplicates all the crookedness of the New Deal in New York, Boston and Jersey City and the Truman Fair Deal in Kansas City, St. Louis and the White House. Arizona is immature, incompetent, insolvent and incoherent and never has been worthy of statehood. At the present time she is politically incapable of adopting laws to forestall the disaster of exhaustion of her own underground water supply. This precious treasure is being squandered rapidly by war profiteers, many of them carpetbaggers in corporate form. Several notorious midwesterners have driven down big wells to grow one or two quick crops of ordinary southern cotton-belt cotton for war industries. There is no ceiling on the price of cotton and, with a few woefully feeble exceptions, nothing has been done to prevent the war profiteers from destroying the water supply for their own quick profit. Big town gangsters are putting their roots down and posing as reputable business men and Florida's sad experience of the 1920's is being duplicated in Arizona.

The cotton-and-water problem is typical of the slovenly, incompetent nature of government in Arizona.

The Kefauver Committee found no occasion—indeed, there may have been no legitimate reason—to go into the shocking record of misconduct in public office which the ignorant, uncouth Democratic machine ran up during its long reign. There has been a little revolution, to be sure, with the election of Howard Pyle, a Republican, to be governor, and a Republican mayor and council in Tucson.

But it would be foolish to pretend to believe that a change of party and even the election of good men to all the important offices could redeem the fundamental incompetence of Arizona to be a state in the union. Its most important industry is government patronage and, in the present situation and for some years past, this has meant that Arizona lived on war. Without war industries Arizona goes on relief.

Politically the state is an imbecile.

In the last few years there have been a series of prosecutions and some convictions of high public officials which would have been a scandal from coast to coast occurring in any first-class state. Occurring in Arizona these episodes were shrugged off as routine devilltry by the citizens. The rest

HIGHER TAXES AHEAD

Two things seem certain about the new tax measure which is in the formative stage in Washington. The taxes will be less than President Truman asked for and they will be more than most of us would like to pay. The increases will be felt in many forms, but excise taxes and increased income taxes will probably affect the most people.

Income taxes may be hiked twelve and a half per cent. To the wage earner this will be no small matter. Automobiles, gasoline, liquor and beer will be more costly because if higher federal taxes. It is unlikely that any part of the proposed tax measure will become law before September or October but the prospect of the increases is not expected to brighten vacations.

The new taxes are to do a two-fold job. They will help to pay for the cost of rearming ourselves and our allies on a pay-as-you-go basis. They will also take some money out of circulation and thus, the government economists hope, help to prevent inflation from becoming worse.

No one likes to pay taxes. But defense is costly. The need to curb inflation is obvious. The new measures may not succeed completely but they may serve to be a partial check. This would be some consolation to the individual who faces the unpleasant prospect of paying the highest taxes in the history of the country.

STUDY OF GEOGRAPHY

Results of a nationwide survey of college students by the New York Times indicate a surprising extent of ignorance of the United States and the world. Slightly more than forty-five per cent of those questioned were able to give the approximate population of the United States; only about seventeen per cent knew how many people live in the Soviet Union.

Questions as to the principal exports and imports of the nations of the world received even fewer correct answers. At a period in history when nations are becoming more and more interrelated through trade and mutual need this lack of geographic knowledge among college students is alarming. Most of the world problems which call for understanding and solution are the result of geographic or economic factors or are influenced by them.

To place all the blame on our educational systems for this lack of interest in the make-up of the world would be oversimplification. Geography is one of the first subjects taught in school and all colleges have advanced courses in this study. It may be that a lack of emphasis on the related subjects has led to this neglect of geography.

It is the job of the schools to motivate learning. The mere facts taught in the classroom are easily forgotten unless a desire to retain them and to add to them becomes ingrained in the student. Educators might do well to point out more often and more forcefully the permanent importance and the special timely significance of the study of geography.

INTERNATIONAL CAPITAL

A piece of Europe which would belong to no one European state but to all of them in common is the next goal of the French and German diplomats who have been striving for the adoption of the Schuman plan for pooling the coal and steel of the Western nations of the Continent. They are now urging that the administrators of the Schuman plan have a headquarters in territory that would be neither French nor German, nor the land of any other country. It would be as separate as Vatican City or the small states of Andorra, San Marino and Liechtenstein which have weathered all sorts of international storms and preserved their independence. This aim would be to create an isolated political entity like our own District of Columbia.

The idea is that the administrators would be more likely to carry on their task in an international spirit, without trying to forward the interests of any one country, in the sphere of such an independent zone.

American experience has shown the desirability of having the national capital in a separate region, not part of any one state. It seems like a good idea for Europe.

Human nature is strange. A man who saves his money and spends it cautiously is likely to consider himself thrifty while he regards similar behavior in his neighbor as miserliness.

Time and money are alike and yet unlike. They both disappear in a hurry, but only one is always in abundance tomorrow.

'These Days'

STEEL

The principal element in the war potential of any country is, in these days, steel capacity. The real power of the United States rests upon the fact that it has the plant and raw materials to produce 96,696,000 tons of steel every year. As compared to the United States, Soviet Russia has a capacity of 26,500,000 tons. It is, however, important to note that while Soviet Russia produced no steel in 1917, it is now in second place. Furthermore, in a totalitarian country, the government is in a position to use the entire output of any commodity without the slightest regard to consumers' necessities.

Comparing the western powers with the Soviet satellites, these are the figures:

Western Powers

	Tons
United States	96,696,000
United Kingdom	18,078,000
Western Germany	13,101,000
France	9,108,000
Japan	4,970,000
Belgium	3,863,000
Canada	3,270,000
Luxemburg	2,560,000
Italy	2,503,000
Saar	1,925,000
Australia	1,519,000
	157,593,000

Soviet States

	Tons
U.S.S.R.	26,500,000
Czechoslovakia	2,850,000
Poland	2,525,000
Hungary	875,000
Austria	1,017,000
	33,767,000

If to this total is added the 1,071,000 tons of Sweden, a country that Soviet Russia can seize quickly, the total can be raised to 34,838,000.

Suppose Russia were able to take all the steel production on the continent of Europe, it would come to 68,802,000 tons, still considerably under Anglo-American production. This, however, presupposes that no European and no American plants would be bombed out of existence. Actually, it must be assumed that the whole of the western European industry would be bombed out of existence as soon as war started and that some of our plants would suffer

The steel production of the Anglo-American group alone amounts to:

	Tons
United States	96,696,000
United Kingdom	18,078,000
Canada	3,270,000
Australia	1,519,000
	119,563,000

No matter how you look at these figures, the United States has, during the past six years of the cold war produced roughly 50 per cent of the total steel production of the world which is 194,154,000 tons.

When it comes to availability of the raw material, iron ore, 75 per cent of the known, usable supply is held by five countries, the United States, France, Sweden, Great Britain and Soviet Russia, with the United States far in the lead, and with nearby Canada fast moving into the field. The Mesabi range of Minnesota and Michigan iron mountains have produced year after year between one-fifth and one-fourth of the world's supply. The Birmingham, Alabama, ore-field is very important. New fields are being developed in Chile, Venezuela and Brazil.

The importance of this data lies in the single fact that the United States can continue to hold its lead as a world power, in spite of the astonishing errors of its policy-makers, as long as it is able to continue to hold the lead in steel. A national steel policy is as essential as a national diplomatic policy.

YOUR BLOOD PRESSURE

There is no group that knows more about illness and health, life and death, than our insurance medical examiners. The longer they can keep policyholders alive and well, the longer will these policyholders continue to pay their annual premiums. This is the reason that insurance companies offer a free medical or physical examination at stated periods and why so many policy holders take advantage of these examinations, which help to keep them in good health and postpone serious illness and perhaps death.

The commonest health subject discussed today is blood pressure because there are so many cases of heart stroke (coronary thrombosis), due to high blood pressure and hardening of the weak-walled blood vessels.

The latest contribution to our health and happiness in recent years from these life insurance examiners is their finding and announcement that their own figures as to the normal blood pressure have been too low. The middle-aged man's normal blood pressure, they say, should be placed at 160 instead of the present 140. Thus, an individual with blood pressure of 160, who has been living almost the life of a heart invalid, can now relax.

The president of the American Heart Association, Dr. Howard B. Sprague, in a booklet published by the Public Affairs Committee entitled "Your Blood Pressure and Your Arteries," states, "The tensions of our times will take their toll of our leaders unless the people under pressure take certain precautions. The pressure is on again. Business, government, and industry are marshalling strength to build the country's defenses. The age bracket from 32 on roughly corresponds to the ages which high blood pressure develops."

These precautions do not include sitting down and doing nothing. Smuggling to Russia

Inside fact about the war materials being smuggled into Russia is that some of the biggest German firms are guilty.

This is confirmed by a confidential report given the State Department by U. S. High Commissioner John J. McCloy who estimates that $250,0000,000 worth of ball bearings, chemicals, carbon black, nickel, machine tools, airplane parts, steel tubing, bomb cases and scrap iron is moving behind the Iron Curtain every year.

McCloy's probe reveals that the stage was set for mass exports to Russia at a secret meeting in Dusseldorf in November, 1949, when an unnamed East German Communist met with Ruhr industrialists and promised them an unlimited market for steel products and machine tools in China, Czechoslovakia, Rumania, Hungary and Austria. Present at this meeting were a number of Ruhr manufacturers who played ball with Hitler.

The evasion of American prohibitions against shipments to the Iron Curtain became so open that Ruhr businessmen took advertisements in eastern German Communist newspapers, as I reported from Germany last winter. At least two of these firms, Guetthoffnungs Werke and Demag, both large recipients of Marshall Plan aid, advertised in the Communist press. One newspaper even reported in detail how manufacturers might evade U. S. restrictions on shipping behind the Iron Curtain.

Truman Will Veto

President Truman has privately advised congressional leaders that he will veto all appropriation bills that have been slashed by the so-called "horizontal," 10 per cent, across-the-board method.

Such a veto is extremely difficult for any president because to hold up an appropriation bill may mean that a large part of the government will be stymied for lack of funds. However, Truman talked as if he meant business.

He pointed out that the technique of GOP Senator Ferguson of Michigan and other economyites who want to prune federal expenditures without the bother of considering appropriations item by item operates more like a scythe than a pruning knife, since worthy, or even vital items must suffer the same percentage slash as less important items.

The President added that he intended to veto any or all appropriations reduced in this manner even if it meant tying up funds for the government's entire domestic program. In that event, he emphasized, the responsibility would be on Congress, not on him.

"I have decided to do this for two reasons," Truman explained. "One is that Congress is not doing its duty when it arbitrarily reduces an appropriation by the horizontal method. The other reason is that cutting funds for the executive departments in this way may be unconstitutional.

"I am, doing my duty when I send carefully drawn budget estimates to the Congress on what we need to run the government. Congress is evading its duty when it makes an across-the-board reduction in these estimates. Its job is to consider each item on its merits and make specific cuts."

Washington Pipeline

The Defense Department is preparing a bill for Congress, freezing all present reservists in the armed forces reserves. However, World War 2 veterans will not be called except in case of a congressional declaration of emergency. . . . Senator Wiley of Wisconsin has asked the Labor Department to investigate racketeering in the labor unions and to assist the Senate Crime Committee in uncovering hoodlums who infiltrated into the labor movement. Wiley cited the recent series of killings, bombings and beatings in the Chicago Teamsters' Union. . . . Pat Hurley, wartime ambassador to China, tried to get appointed special counsel to the Republican senators investigating the MacArthur controversy. He offered to prepare the case against Secretary of State Acheson and to supply them with embarrassing questions to ask Acheson. However, the Republicans decided they could handle Acheson alone. . . . GOP strategy on Acheson has now been reversed. Instead of trying to prove Acheson appeased the Communists, Republican senators ironically are now accusing Acheson of provoking the Korean war against the Communists. . . . Maine's Sen. Owen Brewster is demanding an investigation of the army engineers' Boston office because Maine contractors are not getting their share. Brewster's son, Charles, is counsel for the big T. W. Cunningham Construction Company of Bangor.

Psychological Board Will Issue Policies Free of State Department Handicaps

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, June 22—A profound evolution, if not change, in American policy is represented by President Truman's appointment of what is called a "psychological strategy board." It will attempt to influence the peoples—rather than the governments—of other countries.

Although composed of representatives of the Department of State, the Department of Defense and the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the new agency reports directly to the President. This means that at last an independent institution free from the handicaps of the State Department's formal diplomacy can operate freely in the field of what used to be called "psychological warfare."

It is to be noted that the head of the Central Intelligence Agency is to be a member of the board and that members from other government departments may be added as the work progresses.

Gordon Gray, who used to be secretary of the army, has been chosen to head it up and the outline thus far makes it appear that the objective is to combine some of the tasks that were performed by the Office of Strategic Services during the last war and some of the duties of the Office of War Information.

Broadly speaking, the purpose is to utilize the principle of infiltration which has been availed of by the Russians inside western countries, but without stooping to the methods and practices of the Communists.

The United States has too long neglected this field of operation. It has been delayed due to the tenacity with which Secretary of State Acheson has opposed any such broad activity unless it could be controlled entirely by his department. He honestly believed it might lead to complications for the State Department. But the famous Formosa Document, which was admittedly an effort to abandon truth in order to accomplish what was believed at the time to be a desirable objective, shows how such tactics can boomerang against the State Department.

The new board probably will not operate any information service. The "Voice of America" probably will go on functioning as it is but with directives of policy from the psychological board that may affect its programs.

Basically, the new board, however, cannot succeed merely because interdepartmental machinery has been set up to direct it. Something vital is lacking. It is the failure of the basic policy of the government itself to furnish the sinews of a good strategy.

It will be useless for the strategy board to try to make effective use of policies which are transparently insincere or inconsistent.

No board of strategy can do anything if the President and secretary of state pursue policies that are faulty. For the State Department to favor the Nationalist government of China one day and to belittle it the next day will not enable the new psychological board to win friends for the United States in Asia. There has to be a firmness and a straightforwardness about national and international policy which will enable a strategy board to feel it is on firm ground when it undertakes a campaign to persuade the peoples of other countries as to basic truths.

Whether any psychological board can succeed in the absence of a competent leadership in international affairs is problematical. The Department of State today does not have the confidence of a United American people. The President has wrecked bipartisan cooperation. If bipartisan handling of foreign policy could be restored, if the American people could be reunited behind a leadership in world policy that they feel they can trust, then a psychological board could do an effective job inside other countries. The trouble will not be with the board but with the ingredients of strategy made available to it by the higher-ups in government itself.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

On a recent morning after being out all night, a jury in the Superior Court in Tucson, Ariz., reported that it had been unable to agree in the case of Bryce H. Wilson, formerly the county attorney and prosecutor, a Democrat, who had been charged with accepting the earnings of a prostitute, conspiring with criminals to permit them to violate the law, and bribery. The case probably will not be tried again, but Wilson, a young pugnacious man-about-town, has been grievously hurt in his reputation by the presentation of a sound-recording of a filthy dialog between a man and a woman. The man's voice was alleged to be Wilson's, the woman's that of a prostitute. The jury split on the possibility that the recording may have been faked altogether or faked in certain parts.

Shortly before Wilson went to trial, Jerry Martin, Democrat, the sheriff who held office during Wilson's term as county attorney, pleaded guilty of conspiring to permit the illegal operation of slot machines. Further charges of accepting bribes and accepting the earnings of a prostitute were not prosecuted. One of his deputies is still under indictment in the same scandal.

Tucson is the second largest city in Arizona.

These cases are but the latest in a long chain of disgraceful episodes in the corruption of government in a state which is still, in economic fact, a territory and a ward and dependency of the federal government. Arizona, in a very crude way, duplicates all the crookedness of the New Deal in New York, Boston and Jersey City and the Truman Fair Deal in Kansas City, St. Louis and the White House. Arizona is immature, incompetent, insolvent and incoherent and never has been worthy of statehood. At the present time she is politically incapable of adopting laws to forestall the disaster of exhaustion of her own underground water supply. This precious treasure is being squandered rapidly by war profiteers, many of them carpetbaggers in corporate form. Several notorious midwesterners have driven down big wells to grow one or two quick crops of ordinary southern cotton-belt cotton for war industries. There is no ceiling on the price of cotton and, with a few woefully feeble exceptions, nothing has been done to prevent the war profiteers from destroying the water supply for their own quick profit. Big town gangsters are putting their roots down and posing as reputable business men and Florida's sad experience of the 1920's is being duplicated in Arizona.

The cotton-and-water problem is typical of the slovenly, incompetent nature of government in Arizona.

The Kefauver Committee found no occasion—indeed, there may have been no legitimate reason—to go into the shocking record of misconduct in public office which the ignorant, uncouth Democratic machine ran up during its long reign. There has been a little revolution, to be sure, with the election of Howard Pyle, a Republican, to be governor, and a Republican mayor and council in Tucson.

But it would be foolish to pretend to believe that a change of party and even the election of good men to all the important offices could redeem the fundamental incompetence of Arizona to be a state in the union. Its most important industry is government patronage and, in the present situation and for some years past, this has meant that Arizona lived on war. Without war industries Arizona goes on relief.

Politically the state is an imbecile.

In the last few years there have been a series of prosecutions and some convictions of high public officials which would have been a scandal from coast to coast occurring in any first-class state. Occurring in Arizona these episodes were shrugged off as routine dev[illegible]try by the citizens. The rest

John L. Sullivan, the Democratic attorney general, the highest law-officer in the state, a cheap job with little appeal to competent, respectable or ambitious lawyers, was convicted of conspiracy to let gamblers operate in violation of the law. Sullivan was notorious as a hard drinker who got into jams when drunk, but was held to be harmless until this episode. His conviction was reversed. The late Governor Osborne had to remove him for cause, however, even though the charge was not tried again.

Osborne, whatever his character, and he was no moral or political stalwart, was so sick during much of his last two terms that he was practically useless.

James Drush, Democrat, the state treasurer, an elective office, was convicted of embezzlement, done when he was treasurer of Maricopa county, and sent to prison. Victor E. Westover, Democrat, clerk of the Superior Court of Navajo county, was convicted of embezzlement, done when he was county treasurer, and sent to prison.

H. S. Hendricks, a special agent of Sullivan, was convicted of offering a bribe to a highway patrolman to let a gambling joint operate. The verdict was affirmed and he went to prison.

Frank E. Tippetts, Democrat, the county attorney of Gila county, was acquitted of a charge of accepting a bribe from Herman Lewkowitz, a lawyer, in a criminal case. Lewkowitz also was acquitted of giving the bribe. Tippetts then was convicted of income tax violation and sentenced to prison.

All these persons were members of the Democratic regime. Their conduct aroused nothing but apathy.

In Tucson, a deputy sheriff proved to have a long and violent criminal record. He was fined $250 for slugging a newspaper reporter, but the fact of his having credentials from the sheriff notwithstanding his past was glossed over. He was, of course, a Democrat.

This could hardly have been called a phase of the so-called National Crime Syndicate. All this was just routine business in the Democratic machine in Arizona, in the spirit of the master party in the White House, Hyde Park and Independence, Mo.

Bicycle Built for Four

Calgary (AP)—Most people have heard of the "bicycle built for two," immortalized in song since grandfather's day, but not so many have heard of a bicycle built for four. This relice reposes in the Calgary store of Matt B. Wolthuis, a middle-aged man who has never known any other work except that of building, repairing or racing bicycles. Matt inherited the bicycle built for four from an old bicycle shop that went out of business years ago. At least eight feet long, it requires some nerve and experience to pilot it. Four novices riding it might run into a lot of grief.

Army Builders

Each new military invention has changed the character of armies, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica, in that costly inventions, like armor, have made armies exclusive and aristocratic, while cheap inventions, like gunpowder, have made them large and democratic.

As Pegler Sees It

of the country never heard of them. Nobody cares what happens in Arizona.

John L. Sullivan, the Democratic attorney general, the highest law-officer in the state, a cheap job with little appeal to competent, respectable or ambitious lawyers, was convicted of conspiracy to let gamblers operate in violation of the law. Sullivan was notorious as a hard drinker who got into jams when drunk, but was held to be harmless until this episode. His conviction was reversed. The late Governor Osborne had to remove him for cause, however, even though the charge was not tried again.

Osborne, whatever his character, and he was no moral or political stalwart, was so sick during much of his last two terms that he was practically useless.

James Drush, Democrat, the state treasurer, an elective office, was convicted of embezzlement, done when he was treasurer of Maricopa county, and sent to prison. Victor E. Westover, Democrat, clerk of the Superior Court of Navajo county, was convicted of embezzlement, done when he was county treasurer, and sent to prison.

H. S. Hendricks, a special agent of Sullivan, was convicted of offering a bribe to a highway patrolman to let a gambling joint operate. The verdict was affirmed and he went to prison.

Frank E. Tippetts, Democrat, the county attorney of Gila county, was acquitted of a charge of accepting a bribe from Herman Lewkowitz, a lawyer, in a criminal case. Lewkowitz also was acquitted of giving the bribe. Tippetts then was convicted of income tax violation and sentenced to prison.

All these persons were members of the Democratic regime. Their conduct aroused nothing but apathy.

In Tucson, a deputy sheriff proved to have a long and violent criminal record. He was fined $250 for slugging a newspaper reporter, but the fact of his having credentials from the sheriff notwithstanding his past was glossed over. He was, of course, a Democrat.

This could hardly have been called a phase of the so-called National Crime Syndicate. All this was just routine business in the Democratic machine in Arizona, in the spirit of the master party in the White House, Hyde Park and Independence, Mo.

Bicycle Built for Four

Calgary (AP)—Most people have heard of the "bicycle built for two," immortalized in song since grandfather's day, but not so many have heard of a bicycle built for four. This relice reposes in the Calgary store of Matt B. Wolthuis, a middle-aged man who has never known any other work except that of building, repairing or racing bicycles. Matt inherited the bicycle built for four from an old bicycle shop that went out of business years ago. At least eight feet long, it requires some nerve and experience to pilot it. Four novices riding it might run into a lot of grief.

Report No. 4143 FORD TRUCK ECONOMY RUN

Concrete Construction, Inc., ran this 1950 Ford F-1 Pickup with POWER PILOT for 8,189 miles in the nationwide Ford Truck Economy Run. Over 5,000 operators in the Run represented every kind of hauling job.

C. W. MILLER, of Concrete Construction, Inc.,* says: "I switched to a Ford Truck because of the money Ford Trucks save on operation and repairs."

*Address furnished on request.

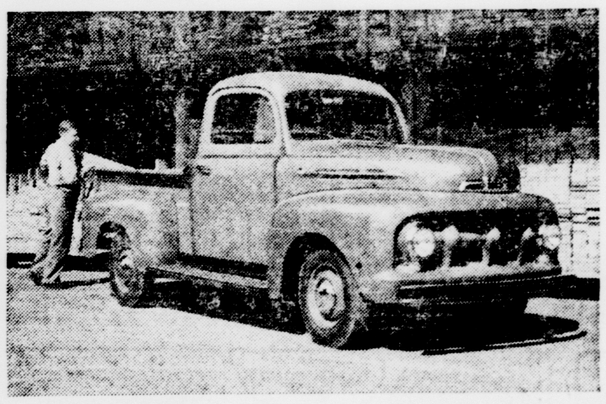

"On Construction Jobs—

My Ford Pickup runs for 2¼¢ a mile!"

"Ford's fast getaway in traffic is a time saver and a money saver, too," says C. W. Miller.

"The daily expense records we kept in the 6-month Ford Truck Economy Run show that the running cost of our Ford F-1 Pickup is only 2.23 cents a mile! We travelled 8,189 miles, with an average load of 1,200 lbs. The cost for gas, oil and maintenance came to only $182.16. We had no repairs. Of course, we got periodic service from our Ford Dealer during the Economy Run."

Save money every mile with Ford Trucks and the POWER PILOT—the carburetion-ignition system which gives you the most power from the least gas! It's another reason why more and more buyers are choosing Ford Trucks; 1950 vs. 1949 registration figures show Ford Truck sales gain is over six times greater than all other makes combined!

Bellhop—I've been sent to ask you to make less noise, gentlemen. The gentleman in the next room says he can't read.

One of the Drinkers—Tell him that he ought to be ashamed of himself. Why, I could read when I was five years old.

A man found in front of a jewelry store with a brick wrapped in a newspaper told the judge he had it for use in building a home. His day's work as a bricklayer, perhaps.

Prosecutor—Now tell the court how you came to take the car.

Defendant—Well, the car was parked in front of the cemetery, so naturally I thought the owner was dead.

Murphy Is First Marine to Head Local Legion Post

Andrew J. Murphy, 3rd, superintendent of the local recreation department, was elected commander of Kingston Post, 150, American Legion, this week.

Murphy, who served the Post as athletic officer for three years and was chairman of various committees, was a veteran of the U. S. Marine Corps during World War 2. He is the first Marine to head the local Post in its history.

The new Legion commander enlisted in the marines January, 1942, while a student at Manhattan College. On call to active duty, he was sent to Bucknell University under the V-12 program.

While at that university, Commander Murphy starred at end on the football team in 1943, being selected by the sports writers on the All Star Pennsylvania team as an end.

He also saw service at Parris Island, Camp Lejeune, Officers Candidates School, Quantico, Va., becoming a second lieutenant in June, 1944.

Served Overseas

After being assigned to Officers Training School at Quantico, he was sent overseas as a motor transport officer with the Sixth Marine Division. He served two years in the Pacific and wes released from active duty as a first lieutenant in 1946.

He later completed his studies at Manhattan, graduating in June, 1947.

The new commander's father, Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., served as commander of Kingston Post during the 1926-27 term.

Kramer Gets Gift

Bernhardt S. Kramer, retiring commander of Kingston Post, 150, was presented with a diamond-studded gold past commander's button in recognition of his service.

Other Officers

Other officers elected during the recent meeting were Sherwood Davis, Robert J. Ross and John A. Weber, vice-commanders; Andrew J. Murphy, Jr., adjutant; Howard Stephans, Jr., treasurer; Clarance A. Brown, chaplain; Charles W. Shultis, welfare officer; Jules Albertini, athletic officer; Donald G. Moore, service officer; Leon Cady, sergeant-at-arms; Ervin DeWitt, historian; Paul Gardner, Roy E. Jacob, Morgan D. Ryan and Louis Tudoroff, executive committee; and Lester C. Elmendorf, Sr., trustee for three years.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., June 22—People say that most land is now too high to buy. I do not believe this. The price of new homes seems high—three times what they sold for in the "thirties"—but both good lots and fertile acreage are still comparatively cheap.

There are three reasons why I believe everyone should own a little land somewhere:

First, there is only just so much land within a certain area—and there never will be any more. It is easy to make more stocks and bonds. The Government can always print more dollar bills when taxes do not balance the budget. New houses, factories and stores can be built; but the amount of land is fixed. There is today no more land within five miles of your post office than there was thousands of years ago and there will be no more a thousand years from now. So, you had better own some that you can use or rent.

A second reason why I would like to see everyone own a little land is because land is the source of everything we have. Land gives us not only food, but also clothing and shelter. We just can't get on without it. The third reason is that to own a little land is a human instinct like the craving for food, children or other basic things. Therefore, land will never go out of style.

Buy Land Which Carries Itself

When buying land get something which carries itself or "pays its board," so to speak. Vacant lots or unused acreage can quickly "eat their heads off." If you pay $1,000 for a vacant lot, the taxes and interest on what you pay could amount to $1,000 in ten years. This means you must then sell it for $2,000 in order to make a penny. Hence, the importance of getting enough income to pay these carrying charges. These—in case of a building—must also include cost of insurance and maintenance.

The above explains why I like woodland, upon which the taxes are low. The trees will grow enough to balance the taxes and interest cost. Moreover, trees grow seven days a week, including Sundays and holidays! They have no labor unions which limit them to growing only eight hours a day, nor do they practice "birth control" to prevent them from multiplying. Their only enemies are fires and debt. Fires are getting better controlled every year; and you can now get mortgages which can be paid off over 20 years, as you get the money.

Don't Hoard Land

The above is not written for rich investors. It is just as dangerous to hoard land as to hoard anything else. Thus, don't attempt to buy too much land. Too big family holdings might some day be divided and sold very cheaply by the U. S. Government, as has been done by several other governments. Or, there might be a graduated real estate tax, increasing as the number of acres increase.

In fact, it is wisest not to concentrate on any form of investment. Don't get hipped on anything; railroads, motors, steels, chemicals, department stores or anything else. Proper diversification is the first rule of successful investing. Yes, you can even become "land poor" by having too much land that produces no income in the form of rents, crops or woodland growth.

My European Friend

I have a European friend who, only ten years ago, was a very rich woman in Poland. She had a beautiful home of sixty rooms; she had 50,000 acres of forest land; she had valuable paintings and other works of art. But when the Russians overran Poland, she could not take away any of these. (She had no stocks or bonds except Polish Governments, which became worthless.)

My friend, however, had some valuable jewelry, including many diamonds. These she concealed on her person and got away. She is now in the United States living humbly on these diamonds and such work as she can get. This friend of mine advises all women to diversify their investments by having some good jewelry. Don't put everything in stocks or bonds or even in land!

Breaks With Dewey

Buffalo, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The State Federation of Labor has made its break with the Dewey administration complete. State AFL delegates wound up their 88th annual convention yesterday angrily denouncing Governor Dewey and Republican legislative leaders. For the record, at least, this put an end to the harmony that Dewey and the state AFL have enjoyed through most of Dewey's nine years as governor. In the past the federation has taken a hands-off policy when Dewey ran for office, and some AFL leaders gave him active support.

Simply Matter of Form

Tokyo, June 22 (AP)—Daniel A. Ferdnandez, formerly of Buenos Aires, was visiting relatives in New Jersey. He decided he wanted a job. Some one told him he had to have a Social Security card. Fernandez went to the city hall and was directed to room 402. He went to room 204 by mistake and filled out a form. He knows now that he filled out a Selective Service form. But Pfc. Fernandez likes it with the 15th Infantry Regiment and says the mistake is OK.

BABSON on BUSINESS

Babson Park, Mass., June 22—People say that most land is now too high to buy. I do not believe this. The price of new homes seems high—three times what they sold for in the "thirties"—but both good lots and fertile acreage are still comparatively cheap.

There are three reasons why I believe everyone should own a little land somewhere:

First, there is only just so much land within a certain area—and there never will be any more. It is easy to make more stocks and bonds. The Government can always print more dollar bills when taxes do not balance the budget. New houses, factories and stores can be built; but the amount of land is fixed. There is today no more land within five miles of your post office than there was thousands of years ago and there will be no more a thousand years from now. So, you had better own some that you can use or rent.

A second reason why I would like to see everyone own a little land is because land is the source of everything we have. Land gives us not only food, but also clothing and shelter. We just can't get on without it. The third reason is that to own a little land is a human instinct like the craving for food, children or other basic things. Therefore, land will never go out of style.

Buy Land Which Carries Itself

When buying land get something which carries itself or "pays its board," so to speak. Vacant lots or unused acreage can quickly "eat their heads off." If you pay $1,000 for a vacant lot, the taxes and interest on what you pay could amount to $1,000 in ten years. This means you must then sell it for $2,000 in order to make a penny. Hence, the importance of getting enough income to pay these carrying charges. These—in case of a building—must also include cost of insurance and maintenance.

The above explains why I like woodland, upon which the taxes are low. The trees will grow enough to balance the taxes and interest cost. Moreover, trees grow seven days a week, including Sundays and holidays! They have no labor unions which limit them to growing only eight hours a day, nor do they practice "birth control" to prevent them from multiplying. Their only enemies are fires and debt. Fires are getting better controlled every year; and you can now get mortgages which can be paid off over 20 years, as you get the money.

Don't Hoard Land

The above is not written for rich investors. It is just as dangerous to hoard land as to hoard anything else. Thus, don't attempt to buy too much land. Too big family holdings might some day be divided and sold very cheaply by the U. S. Government, as has been done by several other governments. Or, there might be a graduated real estate tax, increasing as the number of acres increase.

In fact, it is wisest not to concentrate on any form of investment. Don't get hipped on anything; railroads, motors, steels, chemicals, department stores or anything else. Proper diversification is the first rule of successful investing. Yes, you can even become "land poor" by having too much land that produces no income in the form of rents, crops or woodland growth.

My European Friend

I have a European friend who, only ten years ago, was a very rich woman in Poland. She had a beautiful home of sixty rooms; she had 50,000 acres of forest land; she had valuable paintings and other works of art. But when the Russians overran Poland, she could not take away any of these. (She had no stocks or bonds except Polish Governments, which became worthless.)

My friend, however, had some valuable jewelry, including many diamonds. These she concealed on her person and got away. She is now in the United States living humbly on these diamonds and such work as she can get. This friend of mine advises all women to diversify their investments by having some good jewelry. Don't put everything in stocks or bonds or even in land!

Breaks With Dewey

Buffalo, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—The State Federation of Labor has made its break with the Dewey administration complete. State AFL delegates wound up their 88th annual convention yesterday angrily denouncing Governor Dewey and Republican legislative leaders. For the record, at least, this put an end to the harmony that Dewey and the state AFL have enjoyed through most of Dewey's nine years as governor. In the past the federation has taken a hands-off policy when Dewey ran for office, and some AFL leaders gave him active support.

Simply Matter of Form

Tokyo, June 22 (AP)—Daniel A. Ferdnandez, formerly of Buenos Aires, was visiting relatives in New Jersey. He decided he wanted a job. Some one told him he had to have a Social Security card. Fernandez went to the city hall and was directed to room 402. He went to room 204 by mistake and filled out a form. He knows now that he filled out a Selective Service form. But Pfc. Fernandez likes it with the 15th Infantry Regiment and says the mistake is OK.

Second Smallest Planet

Pluto, through observation with the 200-inch telescope, appears as the second smallest planet, and measures 3,550 miles across.

Missing Nurse Comes From Woods

Gatlinburg, Tenn., June 22 (AP)—A missing 21-year-old nurse, with in interest in fasting, walked out of a mountain wilderness in apparent good condition last night and told rangers she had spent two weeks wandering without food or protection.

Evangeline Lorimor was taken to a hospital at nearby Sevierville for observation but rangers said she was suffering mainly from puffed feet and insect bites. They said she showed no signs of malnutrition.

Robert White, acting superintendent of the Smoky Mountains National Park, said she apparently was only half lost during the period when search parties were plodding over the rugged terrain. He quoted her as saying she had heard them but didn't have the energy to respond.

She was located on a little trail winding through laurel thickets in the general area where she disappeared June 8. She told rangers she had decided it was "time to come out."

Ate No Food

On the basis of her story to rangers, the intensely religious nurse ate no food during the two weeks. White said he had learned she had experimented with fasting at nursing school and had shown unusual interest in vitamins and concentrated foods. Her father insisted she carried no food away from camp.

The ranger said her story was confused, but he delayed pressing questions upon her until after doctors give a go-ahead. Her account was that she saw no human being during her walk. She braved the fastness in a tee shirt, jeans and low white shoes. She had no coat nor blankets to protect her from the torrential rains that fell during the period or the cool mountain nights.

She drank from the numerous swift streams in the area.

She was an experienced hiker. At the time she wandered into the park's bear-infested thickets along the Tennessee-North Carolina border, she was on a camping trip with her father, Evangelist W. H. Lorimor, in the Cades Cove area.

An unidentified mountain boy spotted her on Hannah Mountain last night and escorted her to a warden station.

source withholding of income tax payments on dividends, royalties and some interest.

A special 12½ per cent "defense tax" would be added on to every taxpayer's income tax liability, effective Sept. 1.

Corporation tax boosts would be retroactive to Jan. 1; excise tax changes would go into effect shortly after the bill became law.

President Truman asked last winter for a $16,500,000,000 tax increase, later scaling down his request to $10,000,000,000 on the strength of unexpectedly large collections from the existing rates.

252 Given Jobs In May, Report

The Kingston office of the New York State Employment service placed 252 persons in jobs during May, Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported today.

The report showed more jobs found in the state for older workers and the physically handicapped during the month than at any time since the end of World War 2.

The total placed in jobs in Kingston was 45 above May 1950, and of the total 108 were placed in manufacturing jobs and 144 in other work including 99 in seasonal farming and six in permanent farm jobs.

Non-farm listing in the state for the month were 11 per cent above April with a total of 95,100 and farmers sought more than 3,900 field hands to help cultivate crops and pick early vegetables and strawberries. The state total for the month was also increased because of "unusual apparel industry hiring in New York city."

Decision Is Due

troduce a new schedule of subsidy payments.

Some administration forces were reported angling for a compromise on the rollback issue, which might follow closely the House version of the controls. The House voted to limit future rollbacks on any agricultural product to 90 per cent of the price on last May 19.

'Not As Bad'

Douglas told a reporter he considers the House version "not as bad as the Senate bill" and the Senate version "better than nothing."

Moody told a news conference he believes there is "a good chance" the Senate will override the committee and remove the rollback restriction, and declared "we'll fight it out, just as hard as we know how."

The House committee approved its one-year extension bill 21 to 5 after considering 73 amendments yesterday.

One amendment would permit war veterans to buy houses under GI legislation with down payments of six per cent or less provided the total cost didn't exceed $12,000.

Spence told newsmen the House bill will be printed as it was drawn by the administration along with all the amendments written by its committee. This device, he said, will enable the House membership to pass on each of the changes adopted by the committee.

Missing Nurse Comes From Woods

Gatlinburg, Tenn., June 22 (AP)—A missing 21-year-old nurse, with in interest in fasting, walked out of a mountain wilderness in apparent good condition last night and told rangers she had spent two weeks wandering without food or protection.

Evangeline Lorimor was taken to a hospital at nearby Sevierville for observation but rangers said she was suffering mainly from puffed feet and insect bites. They said she showed no signs of malnutrition.

Robert White, acting superintendent of the Smoky Mountains National Park, said she apparently was only half lost during the period when search parties were plodding over the rugged terrain. He quoted her as saying she had heard them but didn't have the energy to respond.

She was located on a little trail winding through laurel thickets in the general area where she disappeared June 8. She told rangers she had decided it was "time to come out."

Ate No Food

On the basis of her story to rangers, the intensely religious nurse ate no food during the two weeks. White said he had learned she had experimented with fasting at nursing school and had shown unusual interest in vitamins and concentrated foods. Her father insisted she carried no food away from camp.

The ranger said her story was confused, but he delayed pressing questions upon her until after doctors give a go-ahead. Her account was that she saw no human being during her walk. She braved the fastness in a tee shirt, jeans and low white shoes. She had no coat nor blankets to protect her from the torrential rains that fell during the period or the cool mountain nights.

She drank from the numerous swift streams in the area.

She was an experienced hiker. At the time she wandered into the park's bear-infested thickets along the Tennessee-North Carolina border, she was on a camping trip with her father, Evangelist W. H. Lorimor, in the Cades Cove area.

An unidentified mountain boy spotted her on Hannah Mountain last night and escorted her to a warden station.

252 Given Jobs In May, Report

The Kingston office of the New York State Employment service placed 252 persons in jobs during May, Industrial Commissioner Edward Corsi reported today.

The report showed more jobs found in the state for older workers and the physically handicapped during the month than at any time since the end of World War 2.

The total placed in jobs in Kingston was 45 above May 1950, and of the total 108 were placed in manufacturing jobs and 144 in other work including 99 in seasonal farming and six in permanent farm jobs.

Non-farm listing in the state for the month were 11 per cent above April with a total of 95,100 and farmers sought more than 3,900 field hands to help cultivate crops and pick early vegetables and strawberries. The state total for the month was also increased because of "unusual apparel industry hiring in New York city."

Decision Is Due

troduce a new schedule of subsidy payments.

Some administration forces were reported angling for a compromise on the rollback issue, which might follow closely the House version of the controls. The House voted to limit future rollbacks on any agricultural product to 90 per cent of the price on last May 19.

'Not As Bad'

Douglas told a reporter he considers the House version "not as bad as the Senate bill" and the Senate version "better than nothing."

Moody told a news conference he believes there is "a good chance" the Senate will override the committee and remove the rollback restriction, and declared "we'll fight it out, just as hard as we know how."

The House committee approved its one-year extension bill 21 to 5 after considering 73 amendments yesterday.

One amendment would permit war veterans to buy houses under GI legislation with down payments of six per cent or less provided the total cost didn't exceed $12,000.

Spence told newsmen the House bill will be printed as it was drawn by the administration along with all the amendments written by its committee. This device, he said, will enable the House membership to pass on each of the changes adopted by the committee.

By SOPHIE MILLER

Looking through the City Directory of 1930, I see Edgar J. Dempsey was mayor; Alphonso T. Clearwater, historian; Walter H. Gill, city clerk; Bernard A. Culloton, city judge; Harry H. Flemming, corporation counsel; John J. Costello, city marshal. Collector of unpaid taxes was Louis G. Bruhn and J. Allan Wood was chief of police. There were 33 patrolmen on the force. Myron J. Michael was superintendent of schools; B. C. Van Ingen, principal of the high school and Patrick H. Cullen, principal of No. 3 School, where I used to go.

"Pat." Cullen used to teach us arithmetic in the last grades. One of his standard jokes was something like this: "If a herring and a half cost a cent and a half, how much do two herrings cost," and he always caught some one napping with an answer of three cents. Arithmetic was not one of my best subjects, and if it was not for John J. Finerty, Jr. at that time principal of No. 7 visiting with my father and now and then helping me to understand the problems, I think I would have been in No. 3 yet. John not only was a whiz at mathematics but also could draw pictures out of the alphabet and that amused me no end. He could take a word like China, and make a Chinaman out of it. Ask him sometime to show you how he does it.

Incidentally our library has now covered the half century mark. According to the 1930 directory. "The library was organized on March 13, 1899, and was open to the public the next October. For 5 years it occupied a room in the City Hall. In 1903, the Common Council voted an annual appropriation of $3,000 for maintenance and secured a gift of $30,000 from Mr. Carnegie for a building. The Carnegie building was opened in March, 1904."

I don't think since then, some 50 years ago, the building was enlarged one inch, yet most of the other public buildings all around it, grew and grew. I did hear some talk some time ago, that they were going to use the land around it for enlarging. No doubt, a successful drive can be run for the library as well as for anything else. That is one building which I think could grow practically to the sidewalk for I am sure there are a lot more than the original 15,000 volumes which were in it in 1900. I wish I had more time to spend enjoying the many books and magazines there. They have especially a fine collection of local historical items, that I am afraid few know about, unless they are doing research. Incidentally I have a copy of the "Ulster County Gazette" which someday somehow I would like to see framed in double glass, so it can be read from both sides to become a permanent exhibit at the library. If someone has such a frame to spare, I will donate the "Gazette." The inside measurements of the frame should be 22 and a half by 17 and a half inches. That would spread the entire paper out to be able to be read on both sides.

Among the advs. of 1930 I see Henry H. Swart, contractor and builder of 161 O'Neil street, who not only did building, but moving. Also, remember Sweeney and Schonger's handsome sporting goods store at 260 Fair street.

Practical Approach

Singapore (AP)—There'll be no sarongs for the 13 scouts who are to represent the Federation of Malaya at the International Scout Jamboree at Salzkammergut, Austria, next August. They've been told to forget such Malayan garments and take instead warm pajamas as sleeping attire.

NOT A WORRY IN THE WORLD—What to do when the world's cares weigh too heavily is here demonstrated by Patrick Brown of the St. Peter's-St. Joseph's Home, San Antonio, Tex. SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, June 22—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Angell of Worcester, Mass., are spending a vacation at the home of Mrs. Gabriel Richard. Dick has a number of friends in Shokan where he was a frequent visitor as a boy.

David "Buddy" Farrell, formerly of Zena and Shokan, has graduated from a paratroopers' school and is now stationed at Fort Benning, Ga., with the 82nd Airborne Division. David's brother, Carl, also of the 82nd, is at Fort Bragg, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Flad, Elmhurst, L. I., and Clara Lohrman of New York were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Aast.

Merlin DuBois and Dick Shultis of the Glenford mountain road were callers here Sunday. Merlin is employed as a driver for the Landsdell asphalting concern which this month supplied material for resurfacing a strip of New York city maintained roadway near Route 28-A. The enterprising War 2 veteran in his spare time is contracting for old cars to salvage for junk during the winter months.

Curiosity, or perhaps just plain devilishness, cost a motorist $15 up in North Norwich the other day; Justice Leland Adsit fined him that much for flashing a spotlight on the windshield of an oncoming car.

Edwin Swenson, who is employed at Chestertown, spent the week-end with his wife and son at the Homer Markle place in the west end.

William "Bill" Stevens, Ashokan War 2 veteran, was elected sergeant-at-arms of Olive Post, American Legion, at a meeting which named Herman Weidner, Jr., of West Shokan, as commander to succeed Emerich Lukacs, Shokan.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter of Richmond Hill and son, James, Jr., of Troy, were at the family camp here during the week-end. They spent a part of Saturday at the Haberman farmhouse in Oak Hill, Greene county. Thomas Carpenter, a civil engineer employed by the department of water supply in New York, also was here Sunday.

Herbert Monaco, a new resident of Shokan, has secured employment with Jones Dairy in Kingston.

Anthony Iapoce and family of Long Island City were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Iapoce in Ashokan.

Woman Will Open Raceway, Battle Ithaca Officials

Ithaca, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Marble says her $31,000 stock-car raceway will be opened Sunday, even if she goes to jail for ignoring the state's Sunday ban on such affairs.

"If they close us down, everything else will be closed down, too," Mrs. Marble said yesterday after conferring with authorities.

She said that Frederick Bryant, Tompkins county district attorney; Sheriff Clifford Hall and state police at Dryden all had told her it was illegal to hold Sunday races in New York state.

She claims other affairs, which she terms illegal under the Sunday ban, are scheduled for that day. She lists a local sportsmen's shoot, golfing, horse shows and some activities at Cornell University.

She said that she and her husband, Ernest, had no objections to the other functions. But if either of them was arrested, she added, she thinks that those responsible for the other affairs also should be arrested.

Lt. Joseph A. Murphy of Vestal, zone commander of the state police, said the operators of the races would be arrested if the troopers received a complaint.

Murphy said he expected to confer with the district attorney about the speedway.

Section 2145 of the Penal Law prohibits Sunday sports in general, but the Legislature has excluded some affairs, such as baseball, basketball and hockey.

Three persons were arrested near Poughkeepsie May 13 on charges of operating a Sunday stock-car race, but the charges were dropped. Sheriff C. Fred Close of Dutchess county said the three had written him that they had thought there was no objection to the Sunday races.

A heavy three-wheeled carriage, propelled by steam cyliners, was built in Paris in 1769. Its top speed was three miles an hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Flad, Elmhurst, L. I., and Clara Lohrman of New York were week-end guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Aast.

Merlin DuBois and Dick Shultis of the Glenford mountain road were callers here Sunday. Merlin is employed as a driver for the Landsdell asphalting concern which this month supplied material for resurfacing a strip of New York city maintained roadway near Route 28-A. The enterprising War 2 veteran in his spare time is contracting for old cars to salvage for junk during the winter months.

Curiosity, or perhaps just plain devilishness, cost a motorist $15 up in North Norwich the other day: Justice Leland Adsit fined him that much for flashing a spotlight on the windshield of an oncoming car.

Edwin Swenson, who is employed at Chestertown, spent the week-end with his wife and son at the Homer Markle place in the west end.

William "Bill" Stevens, Ashokan War 2 veteran, was elected sergeant-at-arms of Olive Post, American Legion, at a meeting which named Herman Weidner, Jr., of West Shokan, as commander to succeed Emerich Lukacs, Shokan.

Mr. and Mrs. James Carpenter of Richmond Hill and son, James, Jr., of Troy, were at the family camp here during the week-end. They spent a part of Saturday at the Haberman farmhouse in Oak Hill, Greene county. Thomas Carpenter, a civil engineer employed by the department of water supply in New York, also was here Sunday.

Herbert Monaco, a new resident of Shokan, has secured employment with Jones Dairy in Kingston.

Anthony Iapoce and family of Long Island City were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Iapoce in Ashokan.

Children Paint Murals

Woman Will Open Raceway, Battle Ithaca Officials

Ithaca, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Mrs. Marjorie Marble says her $31,000 stock-car raceway will be opened Sunday, even if she goes to jail for ignoring the state's Sunday ban on such affairs.

"If they close us down, everything else will be closed down, too," Mrs. Marble said yesterday after conferring with authorities.

She said that Frederick Bryant, Tompkins county district attorney; Sheriff Clifford Hall and state police at Dryden all had told her it was illegal to hold Sunday races in New York state.

She claims other affairs, which she terms illegal under the Sunday ban, are scheduled for that day. She lists a local sportsmen's shoot, golfing, horse shows and some activities at Cornell University.

She said that she and her husband, Ernest, had no objections to the other functions. But if either of them was arrested, she added, she thinks that those responsible for the other affairs also should be arrested.

Lt. Joseph A. Murphy of Vestal, zone commander of the state police, said the operators of the races would be arrested if the troopers received a complaint.

Murphy said he expected to confer with the district attorney about the speedway.

Section 2145 of the Penal Law prohibits Sunday sports in general, but the Legislature has excluded some affairs, such as baseball, basketball and hockey.

Three persons were arrested near Poughkeepsie May 13 on charges of operating a Sunday stock-car race, but the charges were dropped. Sheriff C. Fred Close of Dutchess county said the three had written him that they had thought there was no objection to the Sunday races.

R. J. Knoeppel, Rotary Leader, Dies in Yonkers

Raymond J. Knoeppel, aged 66, who was well known in this city through his participation in Rotary Club services and activities, died Wednesday evening in Yonkers General Hospital.

As governor of this district of Rotary International, Judge Knoeppel visited here officially many times and on other special occasions, when he delivered the main address. A gifted speaker, he was in great demand at Rotary functions throughout the country. He also was president of the New York City Rotary Club and a director of Rotary International.

A leader in Rotary service in behalf of crippled children, Judge Knoeppel was president of the New York State Association for Crippled Children. He stimulated much state legislation for crippled children and served as an adviser on the needs of these children to Governors Roosevelt, Lehman and Dewey. He also was president of the board of visitors of the New York State Rehabilitation Hospital at Haverstraw and chairman of the Physically Handicapped Children's Council of the New York State Board of Regents.

Judge Knoeppel also founded Boys Week, which is now observed in 22 countries and once called himself, "a propagandist for the boy." He believed that if adolescent boys were provided with proper heroes instead of the thieves, dope peddlers and gangsters, they would grow up to be decent citizens. He offered himself without stint in the service of boys and urged other men to do the same.

He served as a judge of the Nassau County Court in Long Island for 10 years and was mayor of Ocean Beach, Long Island. A 32nd degree mason, he was an officer of the Grand Lodge of the Free and Accepted Masons of the State of New York.

For many years he was president of the endowment fund of the 5th Manhattan District Association. The fund finances needy students through college.

Surviving are his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Arthur H. Bert of Yonkers and Mrs. Charles Zimmerman of Phoenix, Arizona and a granddaughter and two grandsons.

A religious and Masonic service will be held at 8 o'clock tonight at Masonic Temple, 71 West 23rd street, New York city.

Kingston Sailor Visits Relatives in Greece

Evan Savatgy, ET2, USN, of Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Savatgy, has a family reunion with his relatives in Athens, Greece, whom he visited early this month. Left to right: great uncle Aristides Eleadis, aunt Vasilia Casmiroglou and young cousin Terpandros; cousin Elly, aunt Despina, Evan and cousin Aristos, aunt Olga and her husband, Costa. (Official U. S. Navy Photograph)

Savatgy Held Own Reunion Early in Month in Athens

The U. S. Navy brought the Old World and the New World together when Evan Savatgy, electronics technician, second class, USN, of Kington, had the opportunity early this month to visit his relatives "back in the old country" in Athens, Greece.

It happened that the ship aboard which Savatgy is serving, the USS Donner, a landing ship dock of the Amphibious Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, called for three days at nearby Phaleron Bay. Evan was given a special overnight liberty to stay in Athens with his relatives, the Casmiroglou family, a brother and several sisters of his mother.

Entered Service in 1948

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Savatgy of 175 Washington avenue, Evan, 20, has been in the Mediterranean for three months. He entered the naval service in January, 1948, after graduation and some post graduate work at Kingston High School.

Following recruit training and 48 weeks of electronics school at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., Evan attended the Naval Radar School at Anacostia, D. C. After this came successive duty aboard two amphibious command ships, the USS Adirondack and the Mount Olympus. He was transferred to the Donner shortly before she started on the Mediterranean cruise last March.

The Savatgys have another son now in service. He is Peter, 18, the youngest, who is with the Coast Guard and presently also in European waters.

Manuel Given Honors

Another son, Manuel, 23, who was a first lieutenant in the air force, was killed last Saturday in the collision of two F-51 Mustang fighter planes over the Gila Bend gunnery range in Arizona.

Funeral services for First Lt. Savatgy were held today at 10 a. m. at the Pine Lawn National Cemetery in Long Island. An honor guard paid full military honors to the officer.

Committee Given Financial Report Of Salvation Army

For every dollar contributed locally to the Salvation Army through the annual appeal, the Army raised $3 through its own efforts last year, Capt. Charles MacLellan, Kingston corps commander, points out.

This fact was brought out when the financial report was discussed Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the strategy committee of the 1951 Annual Maintenance appeal. Present at the meeting, which was held at the Ulster County Savings Institution, were Kirtland Snyder, campaign chairman; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Pratt Boice, Howard D. St. John, Mrs. John Comstock, Howard C. St. John, Major Alfred Davey of the divisional staff, Yonkers and Capt. MacLellan.

In 1950, the financial report showed, the Kingston corps annual appeal brought in $4,408.75, yet the corps total budget lists expenditures of $12,564.72. Additional income included $2,169.96 in special solicitations, $2,706.55 in seasonal income; $867.56 War Cry income, $208.62 meeting collections, $193.98 from members' envelopes, $88.68 in band income and many other items of income.

Major items of expense during 1950 included $2,320.50 for salaries, $2,177.71 for welfare activities, $1,916.43 for other welfare work, $1,668.71 for light and fuel, $1,033.77 for service and supplies, $825.18 for group activities.

"To the casual observer, these reports represent just figures, but to the Salvation Army they represent people with a living problem aided and in many an instance returned to their former status in life," Capt. MacLellan stated.

Aid Is Listed

During the year, the report shows, the local Army Corps distributed clothing to 306 families, gave aid to 1,205 homeless people, filled 72 grocery orders, sent nine children to camp for a total of 126 camper-days, distributed 353 gifts to children, 274 sunshine baskets and 61 Christmas baskets.

Activities during the flood which hit this area included the financing of $600 in dry cleaning and laundry bills, collection of 2,000 pounds of clothing and distribution of food, clothing, furniture and similar items to 150 families.

The Salvation Army's League of Mercy visited 207 persons, distributing 207 gifts, spending a total of 14 hours in seven institutions.

The Army held 71 street meetings in Kingston, counting a total attendance of 442. Regular Sunday services numbered 87, with total attendance of 2,118. There were 87 week-day group activities classes, attended by 792 persons.

The band rehearsed 49 times, with a total cumulative attendance of 361 persons. In addition to that, there were five classes for band beginners, attended by a total of 23 youngsters.

Meetings for Youth

Among the youth classes were 53 Sunday School meetings with a total attendance of 1,837; and 143 recreational and craft classes with total attendance of 2,178. A daily vacation Bible school met 10 times.

In Capt. MacLellan's opinion, the most important part of the Salvation Army's work in Kingston is its rehabilitative program, which he termed "a means to an end." The goal of the program, he said, is to enable the family to be self-supporting, and to return the individual to his own church. Through the Home League, women are taught the essentials of homemaking and child care.

Deadline Is Set Sunday by Pilots For Pay Demands

New York, June 22 (AP)—American Airlines pilots have given notice here that they will not fly DC-6-B ships after midnight Sunday, June 24, unless they get more pay for flying the larger and faster craft.

About 1,000 pilots of United Airlines have been on strike since Tuesday over the same demands.

The DC-6-B is a larger and faster plane than the DC-6, now used extensively by commercial airlines.

Both American and UAL pilots are members of the AFL Airline Pilots Association.

American pilots posted notices yesterday at LaGuardia Field announcing the threatened work stoppage.

The line's pilots began negotiations for a contract two years ago. A presidential fact-finding board reported on their dispute May 25, but failed to act on their request for more money in handling the bigger planes.

The 30-day cooling-off period ordered by the board expires at midnight Sunday, the strike threat deadline set by the pilots.

A spokesman for American said no negotiations with the pilots have been held since the board presented its findings. Beyond that, he would make no comment.

Galietta's Term Runs Until 1953

The term of Michael A. Galietta of Glasco, coroner, does not expire at the end of this year, he having been elected in 1950 for a three-year term. The term of Coroner Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston does expire and it is expected he will be re-nominated.

In an account Thursday of the offices to be filled at the November general election it was said a coroner would be elected to fill the expiring term of Coroner Galietta. That error was made after reading a public notice posted by the Democratic county committee in which that party calls its convention and states one of the offices to be filled is that of coroner of the county to succeed "Michael A. Galietta of Glasco." The Democratic County Committee, like the writer of the story in Thursday's paper is in error since Galietta has two years of his term still to serve.

Steel Co., now being erected along the Delaware river near Morrisville.

Poughkeepsian, 70, Is Suicide in Jail

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—John W. Delon, 70, of Poughkeepsie, was found dead in the city jail late last night, hanging from a cell door.

Delon had been arrested about three hours earlier on a charge of public intoxication. Dr. Edgar F. Powell, Dutchess county medical examiner said Delon had fashioned a noose with his shoestrings. The body was found during a periodic inspection of the cell block.

The medical examiner said it was the fifth suicide by hanging in the Poughkeepsie city jail since February, 1949.

Six Are Inducted By Kiwanis Club

Six men were inducted into membership in the Kingston Kiwanis Club at the club's regular luncheon meeting at the Governor Clinton Hotel Thursday.

The men were Edgar H. Bauman, writer and and radio commentator; Alfred J. Bruckert, former high school teacher and football coach and now proprietor of Tony's Brake Service; John H. Haulenbeek, industrial engineer for Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation; John Schultz, of Canfield Supply Company; George Vogler of Ertel Engineering Corporation, and George McCarthy of Prudential Insurance Company. Schultz, Vogler and McCarthy are all navy veterans of World War 2.

The induction was conducted by the Kiwanis education committee: Bernard J. Feeney, chairman; Dr. Julius I. Gifford, Allen A. Baker, Chester A. Baltz, Sr., and Edward M. Huben.

Two Children Injured

New York, June 22 (AP)—Two ten-year-old chilren, Edna Flaherty, of 3575 East Tremont avenue, the Bronx, and William Menaghan, of 3579 East Tremont avenue, received brain concussions when a commercial automobile bowled them over last night, police said. A summons was issued to John Rice, 46, of 2450 Creston avenue, the Bronx, charging him with leaving the scene of the accident. Detective John Megher said from witnesses that the children were crossing near the corner of Lafayette and East Tremont avenues when the car him them.

Dismissed Fireman Elected Officer by State Labor Group

Buffalo, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—John P. Crane, whose testimony concerning former Mayor William O'Dwyer electrified the Kefauver committee hearings, has been elected a vice-president of the State Federation of Labor.

The former president of the New York City Uniformed Firemen's Association was elected yesterday at the closing session of the 88th annual meeting.

Crane had told the Senate Crime Investigating Committee last spring that as president of the association he had given $10,000 to O'Dwyer on the steps of Gracie Mansion.

Crane said the money was a contribution to O'Dwyer's campaign for re-election.

O'Dwyer had testified the day before that Crane had not made any campaign contributions to him.

Crane was dismissed from the New York City Fire Department in January, 1951, after a grand jury charged that $135,000 was missing from association funds.

Quit as President

He was suspended from his national post as vice-president of the International Association of Fire Fighters after he had testified before the Kefauver committee.

Crane resigned as president of the Uniformed Firemen's Association in April.

On May 31, he filed a suit in Supreme Court asking reinstatement as a fireman with back pay. The case is pending.

23 Persons Arrested In Poker Game Raid

New York, June 22 (AP)—Fifteen women and eight men were arrested last night at 55 East 179th street, the Bronx, in a raid on what police called a floating poker game.

Martin Aurback, 47, of 17 West 64th street, Manhattan, who police said acted as doorman for the party, was booked on a gambling charge. The others were booked for disorderly conduct. All were well-dressed, police said.

Police said Lt. William Borrell and four patrolmen of the confidential squad gained entrance simply by tapping on the window, as a signal for Aurback to open the door. They said they found three sets of poker players at round tables, while another woman served refreshments.

There was no money in sight, as betting was done with chips, police said. They said the stakes were high, and that a limousine had been used to take players to the game.

Officers said the ground-floor five-room flat was well furnished.

Kingston Sailor Visits Relatives in Greece

Evan Savatgy, ET2, USN, of Kingston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Savatgy, has a family reunion with his relatives in Athens, Greece, whom he visited early this month. Left to right: great uncle Aristides Eleadis, aunt Vasilia Casmiroglou and young cousin Terpandros; cousin Elly, aunt Despina, Evan and cousin Aristos, aunt Olga and her husband, Costa. (Official U. S. Navy Photograph)

Savatgy Held Own Reunion Early in Month in Athens

The U. S. Navy brought the Old World and the New World together when Evan Savatgy, electronics technician, second class, USN, of Kington, had the opportunity early this month to visit his relatives "back in the old country" in Athens, Greece.

It happened that the ship aboard which Savatgy is serving, the USS Donner, a landing ship dock of the Amphibious Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet, called for three days at nearby Phaleron Bay. Evan was given a special overnight liberty to stay in Athens with his relatives, the Casmiroglou family, a brother and several sisters of his mother.

Although his Greek was a little rusty, after a few hours Evan was chatting away about America and his family here to his uncle, aunts and cousins. The rousing welcome they gave him included a treat of his favorite Greek dishes and a tour of the ancient Hellenic capital.

Entered Service in 1948

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Savatgy of 175 Washington avenue, Evan, 20, has been in the Mediterranean for three months. He entered the naval service in January, 1948, after graduation and some post graduate work at Kingston High School.

Following recruit training and 48 weeks of electronics school at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill., Evan attended the Naval Radar School at Anacostia, D. C. After this came successive duty aboard two amphibious command ships, the USS Adirondack and the Mount Olympus. He was transferred to the Donner shortly before she started on the Mediterranean cruise last March.

The Savatgys have another son now in service. He is Peter, 18, the youngest, who is with the Coast Guard and presently also in European waters.

Manuel Given Honors

Another son, Manuel, 23, who was a first lieutenant in the air force, was killed last Saturday in the collision of two F-51 Mustang fighter planes over the Gila Bend gunnery range in Arizona.

Funeral services for First Lt. Savatgy were held today at 10 a. m. at the Pine Lawn National Cemetery in Long Island. An honor guard paid full military honors to the officer.

Committee Given Financial Report Of Salvation Army

For every dollar contributed locally to the Salvation Army through the annual appeal, the Army raised $3 through its own efforts last year, Capt. Charles MacLellan, Kingston corps commander, points out.

This fact was brought out when the financial report was discussed Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the strategy committee of the 1951 Annual Maintenance appeal. Present at the meeting, which was held at the Ulster County Savings Institution, were Kirtland Snyder, campaign chairman; Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Pratt Boice, Howard D. St. John, Mrs. John Comstock, Howard C. St. John, Major Alfred Davey of the divisional staff, Yonkers and Capt. MacLellan.

In 1950, the financial report showed, the Kingston corps annual appeal brought in $4,408.75, yet the corps total budget lists expenditures of $12,564.72. Additional income included $2,169.96 in special solicitations, $2,706.55 in seasonal income; $867.56 War Cry income, $208.62 meeting collections, $193.98 from members' envelopes, $88.68 in band income and many other items of income.

Major items of expense during 1950 included $2,320.50 for salaries, $2,177.71 for welfare activities, $1,916.43 for other welfare work, $1,668.71 for light and fuel, $1,033.77 for service and supplies, $825.18 for group activities.

"To the casual observer, these reports represent just figures, but to the Salvation Army they represent people with a living problem aided and in many an instance returned to their former status in life," Capt. MacLellan stated.

Aid Is Listed

During the year, the report shows, the local Army Corps distributed clothing to 306 families, gave aid to 1,205 homeless people, filled 72 grocery orders, sent nine children to camp for a total of 126 camper-days, distributed 353 gifts to children, 274 sunshine baskets and 61 Christmas baskets.

Activities during the flood which hit this area included the financing of $600 in dry cleaning and laundry bills, collection of 2,000 pounds of clothing and distribution of food, clothing, furniture and similar items to 150 families.

The Salvation Army's League of Mercy visited 207 persons, distributing 207 gifts, spending a total of 14 hours in seven institutions.

The Army held 71 street meetings in Kingston, counting a total attendance of 442. Regular Sunday services numbered 87, with total attendance of 2,118. There were 87 week-day group activities classes, attended by 792 persons.

The band rehearsed 49 times, with a total cumulative attendance of 361 persons. In addition to that, there were five classes for band beginners, attended by a total of 23 youngsters.

Meetings for Youth

Among the youth classes were 53 Sunday School meetings with a total attendance of 1,837; and 143 recreational and craft classes with total attendance of 2,178. A daily vacation Bible school met 10 times.

In Capt. MacLellan's opinion, the most important part of the Salvation Army's work in Kingston is its rehabilitative program, which he termed "a means to an end." The goal of the program, he said, is to enable the family to be self-supporting, and to return the individual to his own church. Through the Home League, women are taught the essentials of homemaking and child care.

Deadline Is Set Sunday by Pilots For Pay Demands

New York, June 22 (AP)—American Airlines pilots have given notice here that they will not fly DC-6-B ships after midnight Sunday, June 24, unless they get more pay for flying the larger and faster craft.

About 1,000 pilots of United Airlines have been on strike since Tuesday over the same demands.

The DC-6-B is a larger and faster plane than the DC-6, now used extensively by commercial airlines.

Both American and UAL pilots are members of the AFL Airline Pilots Association.

American pilots posted notices yesterday at LaGuardia Field announcing the threatened work stoppage.

The line's pilots began negotiations for a contract two years ago. A presidential fact-finding board reported on their dispute May 25, but failed to act on their request for more money in handling the bigger planes.

The 30-day cooling-off period ordered by the board expires at midnight Sunday, the strike threat deadline set by the pilots.

A spokesman for American said no negotiations with the pilots have been held since the board presented its findings. Beyond that, he would make no comment.

Galietta's Term Runs Until 1953

The term of Michael A. Galietta of Glasco, coroner, does not expire at the end of this year, he having been elected in 1950 for a three-year term. The term of Coroner Ernest A. Kelly of Kingston does expire and it is expected he will be re-nominated.

In an account Thursday of the offices to be filled at the November general election it was said a coroner would be elected to fill the expiring term of Coroner Galietta. That error was made after reading a public notice posted by the Democratic county committee in which that party calls its convention and states one of the offices to be filled is that of coroner of the county to succeed "Michael A. Galietta of Glasco." The Democratic County Committee, like the writer of the story in Thursday's paper is in error since Galietta has two years of his term still to serve.

Steel Co., now being erected along the Delaware river near Morrisville.

Poughkeepsian, 70, Is Suicide in Jail

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—John W. Delon, 70, of Poughkeepsie, was found dead in the city jail late last night, hanging from a cell door.

Delon had been arrested about three hours earlier on a charge of public intoxication. Dr. Edgar F. Powell, Dutchess county medical examiner said Delon had fashioned a noose with his shoestrings. The body was found during a periodic inspection of the cell block.

The medical examiner said it was the fifth suicide by hanging in the Poughkeepsie city jail since February, 1949.

Schultz, Vogler and McCarthy are all navy veterans of World War 2.

Two Children Injured

New York, June 22 (AP)—Two ten-year-old chillren, Edna Flaherty, of 3575 East Tremont avenue, the Bronx, and William Menaghan, of 3579 East Tremont avenue, received brain concussions when a commercial automobile bowled them over last night, police said. A summons was issued to John Rice, 46, of 2450 Creston avenue, the Bronx, charging him with leaving the scene of the accident. Detective John Megher said from witnesses that the children were crossing near the corner of Lafayette and East Tremont avenues when the car him them.

Dismissed Fireman Elected Officer by State Labor Group

Buffalo, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—John P. Crane, whose testimony concerning former Mayor William O'Dwyer electrified the Kefauver committee hearings, has been elected a vice-president of the State Federation of Labor.

The former president of the New York City Uniformed Firemen's Association was elected yesterday at the closing session of the 88th annual meeting.

Crane had told the Senate Crime Investigating Committee last spring that as president of the association he had given $10,000 to O'Dwyer on the steps of Gracie Mansion.

Crane said the money was a contribution to O'Dwyer's campaign for re-election.

O'Dwyer had testified the day before that Crane had not made any campaign contributions to him.

Crane was dismissed from the New York City Fire Department in January, 1951, after a grand jury charged that $135,000 was missing from association funds.

Quit as President

He was suspended from his national post as vice-president of the International Association of Fire Fighters after he had testified before the Kefauver committee.

Crane resigned as president of the Uniformed Firemen's Association in April.

On May 31, he filed a suit in Supreme Court asking reinstatement as a fireman with back pay. The case is pending.

23 Persons Arrested In Poker Game Raid

New York, June 22 (AP)—Fifteen women and eight men were arrested last night at 55 East 179th street, the Bronx, in a raid on what police called a floating poker game.

Martin Aurback, 47, of 17 West 64th street, Manhattan, who police said acted as doorman for the party, was booked on a gambling charge. The others were booked for disorderly conduct. All were well-dressed, police said.

Police said Lt. William Borrell and four patrolmen of the confidential squad gained entrance simply by tapping on the window, as a signal for Aurback to open the door. They said they found three sets of poker players at round tables, while another woman served refreshments.

There was no money in sight, as betting was done with chips, police said. They said the stakes were high, and that a limousine had been used to take players to the game.

Officers said the ground-floor five-room flat was well furnished.

Offers to Buy Beef

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The army is offering to buy up to 10,000,000 pounds of foreign beef to meet the immediate needs of U. S. troops overseas. Announcement of the offer was made yesterday after a request earlier in the week to domestic suppliers produced only 10,800,000 pounds of the 20,000,000 military officials want to maintain a 60-day supply on hand, contracted or on the way overseas. The announcement did not specify which foreign countries would supply the meat. In the past, some purchases have been made from Argentina and Uruguay.

Slays Three, Self

Uniontown, Pa., June 22 (AP)—A crazed coal miner shot and killed two women and a deputy fire chief in the nearby mining town of Republic yesterday, then took his own life. Detective William J. Long of Fayette county in southwestern Pennsylvania said the slayer was William Johnson, 51-year-old Negro. The victims were Mrs. Frank Shiner, 30; her sister, Mrs. Susie Gaszdo, 34; and Michael Krocheck, 45. All three were white. Long said Johnson, the two women and their families all lived in the same house. He could give no reason for the killings.

Weekly Earnings Drop

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The average weekly earnings and the average work week in the nation's factories both declined in May, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported yesterday. Nearly one-half hour was shaved off the work week between mid-April and mid-May, bringing it down to 40.6 hours, or about the level at the start of the Korean war. The average weekly earnings of production workers declined 39 cents, to $64.35. That was still nearly $7 higher than a year ago.

Maryknoll Sister Is on Visit Here Prior to Assignment in Nicaragua

Visiting her home here at 11 Abeel street is Sister Rose Fidelis, who, after saying her farewells to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Qualtere, will be sent to her permanent mission assignment in Nicaragua.

SISTER ROSE FIDELIS

Sister Rose Fidelis, the former Mary Ann Qualtere of St. Mary's parish, entered Maryknoll, a religious order dedicated to foreign missions, in 1946. At that time she already held a graduation diploma from Kingston High School, and had been employed by Sigmund Rudisch as an optometrist's assistant. While a parishioner at St. Mary's she was president of the Children of Mary Sodality, and vice-president and secretary of the Newman Club.

After returning to the Maryknoll Motherhouse at Maryknoll she will participate in a departure ceremony July 8, when she will receive her mission crucifix, symbol of her life's dedication to the Catholic foreign missions. Sister Rose Fidelis will leave for Siuna, Nicaragua, in August.

In Siuna, the Maryknoll Sisters staff a school of 270 children, and, although geographically speaking Siuna is close to the United States, it remains in actuality one of the most inaccessible missions of the congregation. The only practical entrance is by plane. The only alternative method of reaching the mission is by ox-cart, bumping along a jungle trail into the mountains. Here, eight Maryknoll sisters can be found. Sister Rose Fidelis, and another member of the order, will be added to the small staff this year to extend the school's catechetical work into the nearby villages.

In Nicaragua, where nearly 1,000,000 people are unable to reach a priest the Catholic church is built and mantained in neglected sectors through the work of its sisters.

Sister Rose Fidelis is one of 38 Maryknoll Sisters assigned to one of the congregation's world wide missions during 1951. Others in the group will go as far east as Ceylon, to the Philippines, Hawaii, and South and Central America.

Representatives of 14 Protestant Churches To Form City Council

Approximately 35 women, representing 14 Protestant churches in the city met June 15 at the YWCA to form a local council of church women, similar to those which, in the past few years, have sprung up in cities and villages throughout the nation.

As one spokesman for the group explained: "In every community today, church women are beginning to realize that faith in Jesus Christ is uniting them, regardless of their denomination or creed, into one great fellowship. The two godless forces of facism and communism that have struck at our bewildered generation within the past 25 years, have crystalized this fellowship into an active movement of church cooperation. . . . A local council of church women is not a separate organization, but rather a united effort to plan together for such events as The World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day, and World Community Day. . . . In these critical days Christian women must keep for themselves and their families a serene spirit."

During Friday's meeting Mrs. John Gardner of Poughkeepsie, area vice-president of the New York State Council of Church Women, and past president of the Poughkeepsie council, spoke briefly of such an organization's purposes and aims. Mrs. Gardner also urged her audience to attend the Vassar College field conference June 26 and 27, opening at noon Tuesday, and closing Wednesday afternoon, which will include among its leaders L. C. Blair, executive secretary of the Dutchess County Council of Churches; Mrs. Gustav Bernstrom, secretary of the New York State Council of Church Women, the Rev. Donald Pielsick and the Rev. Robert Bilheimer, staff members of the National and World Council of Churches.

At the initial meeting the following officers for the Kingston group were elected: Mrs. Herbert Fister, Old First Reformed Church, president; Mrs. Earl Schoonmaker, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, vice-president; Mrs. Clayton Smith, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, secretary, and Miss Louise Merikle, First Presbyterian Church, treasurer.

Approximately 35 women, representing 14 Protestant churches in the city met June 15 at the YWCA to form a local council of church women, similar to those which, in the past few years, have sprung up in cities and villages throughout the nation.

As one spokesman for the group explained: "In every community today, church women are beginning to realize that faith in Jesus Christ is uniting them, regardless of their denomination or creed, into one great fellowship. The two godless forces of facism and communism that have struck at our bewildered generation within the past 25 years, have crystalized this fellowship into an active movement of church cooperation. . . . A local council of church women is not a separate organization, but rather a united effort to plan together for such events as The World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship Day, and World Community Day. . . . In these critical days Christian women must keep for themselves and their families a serene spirit."

During Friday's meeting Mrs. John Gardner of Poughkeepsie, area vice-president of the New York State Council of Church Women, and past president of the Poughkeepsie council, spoke briefly of such an organization's purposes and aims. Mrs. Gardner also urged her audience to attend the Vassar College field conference June 26 and 27, opening at noon Tuesday, and closing Wednesday afternoon, which will include among its leaders L. C. Blair, executive secretary of the Dutchess County Council of Churches; Mrs. Gustav Bernstrom, secretary of the New York State Council of Church Women, the Rev. Donald Pielsick and the Rev. Robert Bilheimer, staff members of the National and World Council of Churches.

At the initial meeting the following officers for the Kingston group were elected: Mrs. Herbert Fister, Old First Reformed Church, president; Mrs. Earl Schoonmaker, Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Redeemer, vice-president; Mrs. Clayton Smith, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, secretary, and Miss Louise Merikle, First Presbyterian Church, treasurer.

THE HOUSE GUEST

A young hostess asks: "Is it customary, or has it become so lately, to give a present to the guest of honor? I am giving a luncheon for a friend in honor of her approaching marriage (it is not a shower) and wondered if, as hostess, I am in courtesy expected to provide a gift on this occasion?"

According to established etiquette, there is no reason why you should provide a gift for this guest. On the other hand, if you would like to do so—or if it happens to be a custom in your own community—then do so by all means.

Married Wedding Attendants

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is serving as an usher at a friend's wedding. There will be a hurried breakfast immediately following for the wedding party, who, it is supposed, will be famished, and this will be followed by a general reception. I'm not invited to the breakfast but am to the reception, and thought this quite all right until someone suggested that it was not right to exclude me from anything. I'd like to know what you say.

Answer: I see no possible discourtesy in omitting you from the breakfast so long as no one outside of the immediate wedding party is being included, and you are invited to the reception.

Mr. Employer Marries Again

Dear Mrs. Post: Some of the employes feel that we should send a gift to our boss who is marrying for the second time. Others say they don't want to contribute. How can the gift be sent from those who'd like to contribute without emphasizing that some wouldn't go along with the idea?

Answer: My advice is against giving a present under the circumstances you describe. My reason is that giving a present with the names of a limited number of the employes who have contributed will certainly cause hard feelings amongst all of you.

Seating Direction

Dear Mrs. Post: From which side of her chair should a woman sit down at the dining table?

Answer: From whichever side she comes to first.

Many readers have asked who pays the wedding expenses. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail, but she has made a convenient list of wedding expenses and who pays them in leaflet E-4. Legs Flattered by Fancy Stockings

These stocking fashions by Willys of Hollywood are designed for certain age groups. The girl just turned twenty, for example, might pick (left) hosiery with a rhinestone-sprinkled wool butterfly just above the ankle. The careerist, at thirty, chooses a sophisticated stocking (left center) with forget-me-not pattern the color of lime ice. The homemaker who's a charming forty likes a smart but simple (right center) clock design in star flower pattern. The woman who's achieved the age of fifty (right) chooses a flattering dark seam and slenderizing dark heel with Swiss dots in white. The designs are permanently appliqued to the outside of stocking.

New York — (NEA) — Putting on a pair of stockings can be fun. When stockings are something special, when they really do flatter a pretty leg, when they make a woman more attractive, then stockings are fun. Such stockings are very much a part of fashion.

Willys of Hollywood, a former boxer turned hosiery designer, believes that stockings should flatter women of all ages. He also thinks they should contribute to the harmony of a woman's costume. Contribute something more, that is, than a shade that blends well with black, brown or navy.

The sparkling butterflies, the star flowers, forget-me-nots and violets that flutter and twine on hosiery of Willys' design are all strategically placed to accomplish the most in ankle and leg flattery. For the woman who's fifty or more and who has a weight problem, there are stockings designed to slenderize. The stockings with a dark heel and seam does the best job of slimming down a plump leg and ankle.

Jeweled decorations and fancy motifs are meant for wear with late-day and evening dresses. For daytime, the dark heel and seam, done in many variations, are fashion-right.

Grace Brucklacher, Highland, Is Wed To Charles Ryerson

Highland, June 22—A background of spring flowers in the Presbyterian Church, this village, formed the setting Sunday for the 3 p. m. marriage of Miss Grace Edith Brucklacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Brucklacher, Grand street, to Pvt. Charles Herbert Ryerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ryerson, Marlborough. The Rev. Oscar Jelsma, pastor of that congregation, performed the double ring ceremony.

During the ceremony traditional wedding music was played by Mrs. W. Herman Jordan, organist, and soloist, Miss Beverly Kenworthy of Liberty sang O Perfect Love, I Love You Dear, and The Lord's Prayer by Malotte.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a nylon lace gown, with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a nylon lace cap, and she carried a bouquet of white roses centering a white orchid.

Honor attendant for the bride was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Brucklacher, who was dressed in yellow georgette with a bolero, a lace cap, and long lace mitts. She carried a bouquet of green and white carnations.

Richard Baker of Kingston was best man for the groom. Ushering were Robert Brucklacher, brother of the bride, Thomas Devine of Highland, and Bart Harris of Marlborough.

Following a reception for 70 guests at the bride's home, Private and Mrs. Ryerson left for New York. They will spend the summer at Camp Jackson, S. C., where the groom is stationed.

Mrs. Ryerson is a graduate of Highland High School, and has studied at both Fredonia and New Paltz State Colleges. She will do her practice teaching next year at Oceanside, L. I.

Footlighters Cast Novelist E. Godwin For 'Claudia' Role

British novelist Edward Godwin, whose home for the past few years has been in Woodstock, will step out from behind his pen Thursday night to appear in the role of Jerry, the British novelist in the Footlighter's production of Rose Franken's Claudia. Curtains will ring up on the sentimental comedy of a lovable child bride in Kingston High School auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

It won't be the first time Mr. Godwin has come to grips with the stage. Back in his student days at Oxford University, he often busied himself with litttle theatre work, designing the decor and dresses for the Oxford Dramatic Society's presentation of Oedipus Tyrannus, and for a Radley production of Electra.

Thursday night Mr. Godwin, who with his wife Stephani, has collaborated on several publications, including his latest, Roman Eagle, a historical novel to be presented in August, will portray a roguish young author enamoured of Claudia, and pursued by Madame Darushka.

Joan Jablonski will star as the play's child bride heroine, and Ernest Ward as her wise and indulgent husband, David. Wanda Lewis has been cast as the volatile Madame Darushka, while Frances Grafe will appear as Claudia's rather neurotic sister-in-law, Julia Naughton. Bertha and Fritz, the staunch, and beloved house servants, will be played by Gretchen Osterhoudt and Jules Viglielmo.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN IN BRIEF

Those eligible to receive the Townsend Annuity, must spend the amount they receive, for goods and services, within 30 days, and must produce checks or receipts to prove same. Now what happens if an individual finds he cannot spend as much as he receives each 30 days? He can do two things. First, he can make out a new application for a smaller amount —whatever he feels he can spend each month. Or he can call up various Dealers, such as those selling Furniture, New Cars, Electrical Appliances, etc., and they will offer suggestions of items to purchase to ease his mode-of-living and give him many conveniences. All these commodities being purchased each month will create a steady demand, thus insuring continuous employment to those of productive ages. Everyone should look forward to enjoying this Life, for the Last of which the First was made. Join Kingston Townsend Club No. 1, meeting at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry St., the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays monthly. For further information call Mrs. Mildred Stoller, Pres., 5672-W.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a nylon lace gown, with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a nylon lace cap, and she carried a bouquet of white roses centering a white orchid.

Honor attendant for the bride was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert Brucklacher, who was dressed in yellow georgette with a bolero, a lace cap, and long lace mitts. She carried a bouquet of green and white carnations.

Richard Baker of Kingston was best man for the groom. Ushering were Robert Brucklacher, brother of the bride, Thomas Devine of Highland, and Bart Harris of Marlborough.

Following a reception for 70 guests at the bride's home, Private and Mrs. Ryerson left for New York. They will spend the summer at Camp Jackson, S. C., where the groom is stationed.

Mrs. Ryerson is a graduate of Highland High School, and has studied at both Fredonia and New Paltz State Colleges. She will do her practice teaching next year at Oceanside, L. I.

Private Ryerson was educated in the Marlborough schools, and before induction in the armed services was employed at International Business Machines Corp., Poughkeepsie. He is now with the Reconnaissance and Intelligence Department, U. S. Army.

Footlighters Cast Novelist E. Godwin For 'Claudia' Role

British novelist Edward Godwin, whose home for the past few years has been in Woodstock, will step out from behind his pen Thursday night to appear in the role of Jerry, the British novelist in the Footlighter's production of Rose Franken's Claudia. Curtains will ring up on the sentimental comedy of a lovable child bride in Kingston High School auditorium at 8:30 p. m.

It won't be the first time Mr. Godwin has come to grips with the stage. Back in his student days at Oxford University, he often busied himself with little theatre work, designing the decor and dresses for the Oxford Dramatic Society's presentation of Oedipus Tyrannus, and for a Radley production of Electra.

Thursday night Mr. Godwin, who with his wife Stephani, has collaborated on several publications, including his latest, Roman Eagle, a historical novel to be presented in August, will portray a roguish young author enamoured of Claudia, and pursued by Madame Darushka.

Joan Jablonski will star as the play's child bride heroine, and Ernest Ward as her wise and indulgent husband, David. Wanda Lewis has been cast as the volatile Madame Darushka, while Frances Grafe will appear as Claudia's rather neurotic sister-in-law, Julia Naughton. Bertha and Fritz, the staunch, and beloved house servants, will be played by Gretchen Osterhoudt and Jules Viglielmo.

THE TOWNSEND PLAN IN BRIEF

Those eligible to receive the Townsend Annuity, must spend the amount they receive, for goods and services, within 30 days, and must produce checks or receipts to prove same. Now what happens if an individual finds he cannot spend as much as he receives each 30 days? He can do two things. First, he can make out a new application for a smaller amount —whatever he feels he can spend each month. Or he can call up various Dealers, such as those selling Furniture, New Cars, Electrical Appliances, etc., and they will offer suggestions of items to purchase to ease his mode-of-living and give him many conveniences. All these commodities being purchased each month will create a steady demand, thus insuring continuous employment to those of productive ages. Everyone should look forward to enjoying this Life, for the Last of which the First was made. Join Kingston Townsend Club No. 1, meeting at Mechanics' Hall, 14 Henry St., the 2nd and 4th Wednesdays monthly. For further information call Mrs. Mildred Stoller, Pres., 5672-W.

Pittsfield Electrics Shade Colonials, 6 to 5, for Three-Game Sweep

Colonials Load Bases but Fail To Score in 9th

Rome Colonels Open Series Here Tonight

The lack of a nail for a horse's shoe once lost a battle and an empire.

The lack of a pinch hitter cost the Colonials a ball game to the league-leading Pittsfield Electrics, 6 to 5, last night before 251 of the faithful at municipal stadium.

It was a ball game in which the home forces led 5 to 1 as early as the third inning. And it served to emphasize the acute personnel problems that haunt Manager Joel Kern at the moment.

The victory enabled the Bay Staters to sweep the three-game set, two of the wins being achieved by one run and in somewhat undistinguished fashion.

Take the bottom of the ninth, for instance. The Colonials had seen a 5-2 lead evaporate with a bases-loaded triple by Lou Palmisiano in the Pittsfield sixth. A long fly by Charlie Ruddock delivered what eventually proved to be the winning run off Frank Seeley.

Needed—One Hit

Big Bill Glendenning, the Gargantua of the Colonial League hurlers, walked Big Sam Piacentino to launch the Kingston ninth and promptly got the hook. Bob Jeffries, who pitched a ball game on the sidelines, came on in relief and the heroics started.

Jack Allen dropped a bunt in front of the plate and Jeffries fired it past first base, putting Piacentino on third and Allen on second with nobody out. Jeffries then came through with a stint of superb clutch pitching, fanning Tony Gomez and Red Klinger, both of whom helped him by going for bad pitches. The Pittsfield strategy elected to walk Duke Groce to load the sacks and that set up a bases loaded situation with two out and the pitcher, Seeley, due to bat.

Seeley batted and struck out. Joe Niro, the only available pinch hitter, was on the bench with a sore hand sustained in a game earlier in the week. Jack Ormiston might have delivered the clutch hit. Who knows. But Seeley went out on strikes and the stragglers wended their weary way home.

It was a tough game for Seeley to lose. The young right hander survived the four-run shelling in the sixth to pitch one-hit ball for the rest of the way, but the Colonials couldn't move Glendenning after piling up a 5-1 lead in the third. He and Jefferies combined for one-hit pitching over the last six innings.

Take Early Lead

Kingston moved ahead 2-1 in the second when Jack Allen walked, Tony Gomez singled and Jack Moore fumbled Red Klinger's grounder to second. Groce delivered Gomez with an infield out.

When Pittsfield elected to pass Tony Gomez to load the bases with two out and get at Red Klinger in the third, the third sacker showed his resentment by blasting a scratch hit behind second scoring Kern who had singled. Moore stopped the hard smash near the bag but couldn't make a play. Groce's smash to right chased Piacentino and Gomez home and accounted for his second and third RBIs of the game. Glendenning closed shop after that.

The Electrics, who don't look as overpowering as Amsterdam or Oneonta, but keep on winning ball games, collected nine hits off Seeley, who fanned nine. Glendenning didn't hurt himself with a couple of singles, a double and a pair of RBIs. Glendenning fanned eight batters and Jefferies had three for a total of 11 for the visiting flingers and 20 for the game.

Red Klinger collected two of Kingston's seven hits — both singles.

Colonials May Have New Pilot

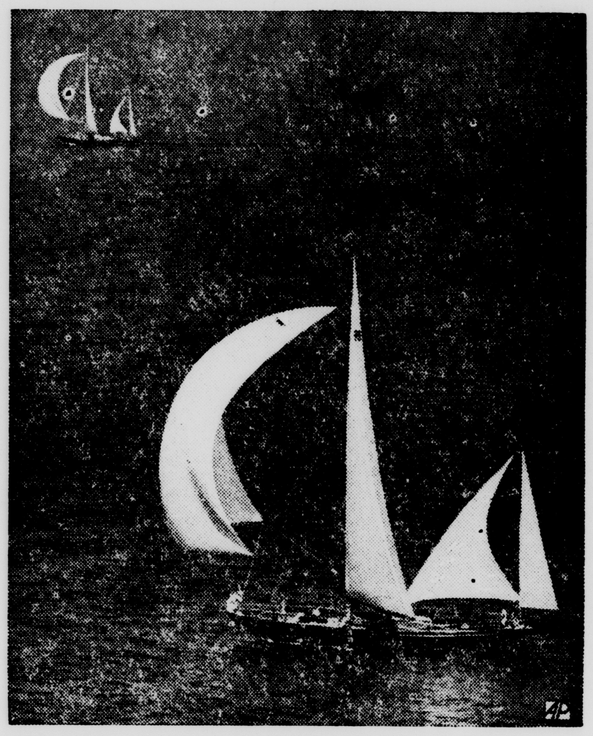

Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., will discuss terms with Bob Murray, veteran minor league baseball coach and manager, on Tuesday, general manager Addison Jones announced this morning.

If Murray agrees to KBC terms, he will immediately replace Joel Kern as Colonial manager, Jones said. Murray is a veteran of the Piedmont and Georgia State League and also serves as a scout for the Boston Braves. He will be a bench manager, if signed.

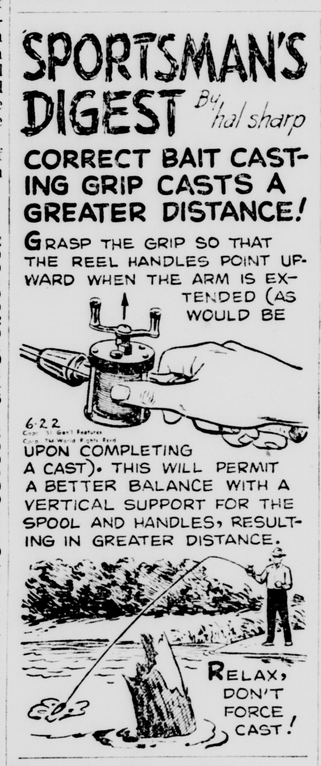

Jones also stated that Murray will bring three or four players with him, if he takes over the Colonial job.

Stanton Hal Cops Roosevelt Feature

Westbury, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Stanton Hal beat the three-horse entry of Tarheel, Solicitor and Direct Rhythm, last night in the Village Farm Stake for three-year-old pacers at Roosevelt Raceway.

Stanton Hal, owned by H. Wilson, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., now has won his last four starts.

The winner returned $6.40, $7.40 and $2.10.

Veeck Promises Funs for Browns

St. Louis, June 22 (AP)—Bill Veeck, baseball's master showman, plans to make things lively in St. Louis when he gains control of the Browns.

An agreement paving the way for Veeck and associates to buy the controlling interest in the American League club from Bill and Charlie Dewitt was announced yesterday.

Veeck was asked whether St. Louis could expect the same attractions he offered as owner of the Milwaukee Brewers and the Cleveland Indians. These included tight-rope walkers, fireworks, a nursery for the benefit of baseball-loving mothers and the like.

"I always believe in having fun at the ball park," Veeck said. "Baseball is entertainment. Why surround it with a staid, solemn atmosphere?

"The more enjoyable you make it, the better people are going to like it. That's why I say let's have some fun doing it."

Need 85 Per Cent

The sale of the Dewitt brother's 58 per cent interest is contingent upon Veeck's ability to purchase other outstanding stock until he has 85 per cent of the total stock.

The Dewitts hold 156,000 of the 275,000 shares of stock. The remainder is mostly in small lots in the hands of some 1,400 other stockholders. Veeck is offering $7 a share for the stock and has set a July 4 deadline for the trading.

Associates were confident Veeck will obtain the stock he needs. Reports here were that the stock transfers already have begun, with several parcels being purchased within the past week or two.

"If we obtain enough stock tomorrow or the next day or any time up to July 5 that's when we'll take over," Veeck said.

The short-sleeved idea man was emphatic in saying the club will remain in St. Louis.

"I think we can build up interest in the team," he said.

Doubleheader, Parade Highlight Little League Opening Saturday

Heafner-Palmer Lead Inverness

Toledo, O., June 22 (AP)—The field was chasing two slow-moving, drawling North Carolinians today as the second round started in the $15,000 Inverness Best-Ball round robin golf tournament.

Out front with a plus five rating, four ahead of their nearest foe—after a nine-under-par 62 in yesterday's play—were Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, second place in last week's National Open, and Johnny Palmer of Badin.

Their barrage of birdies—they were under par on nine of the 18 holes—gave them a five-up victory over New Yorkers Al Brosch of Garden City and Pete Cooper of White Plains.

That was quite an edge, since Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., and Roberto Devicenzo of the Argentine, with a one-up conquest over Jim Demaret and Jack Burke, two torrid Texans, were the only other winners.

Two matches finished in dead heats, the two favored teams being held even. Defending champion Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Jim Ferrier, the Australian-born San Franciscan, finished square with E. J. Dutch Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, the pair of former National Open champions favored to fight it out with Snead-Ferrier for the $4,000 top prize, drew even on the final hole with their foes, Fred Haas of New Orleans, and chunky "Porky" Oliver of Seattle.

Nags at Aqueduct

New York, June 22 (AP) — The New York racing scene shifts today to Aqueduct where half a dozen two-year-olds headed by the Marlboro stud's Jet Master meet in the $10,000-added Tremont Stakes. Aqueduct takes up for a 20-day meeting after the close of the successful Belmont Park meeting, where betting was up more than 7 per cent over the 1950 spring session.

Also participating will be the Lions Club Junior Drum Corps; members of the Kingston Paid Firemen's organization, Lions Club and other service organizations and K.A.A. officials and members. Happy Quits On July 15

New York, June 22 (AP)—P. K. Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Chicago Cubs, called today for a new charter for the baseball commissioner's job as a search for a successor to A. B. Chandler began in earnest.

"Before we can pick the man we must decide what the job is," said Wrigley in a telephone interview from Chicago. "Up to now the duties have been negative. The baseball commissioner should not be a policeman. He should be a leader."

Chandler resigned effective July 15. At that time control of baseball will pass into the hands of an executive committee composed of Will Harridge, American League president; Ford Frick, National League president; Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox; and Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds.

Wrigley is a member of the screening committee appointed to sift candidates for Chandler's job. Their work is complete, he said, and a list has been drawn up. Now it is up to baseball owners to make their decision.

Colonials May Have New Pilot

Kingston Baseball Club, Inc., will discuss terms with Bob Murray, veteran minor league baseball coach and manager, on Tuesday, general manager Addison Jones announced this morning.

If Murray agrees to KBC terms, he will immediately replace Joel Kern as Colonial manager, Jones said. Murray is a veteran of the Piedmont and Georgia State League and also serves as a scout for the Boston Braves. He will be a bench manager, if signed.

Jones also stated that Murray will bring three or four players with him, if he takes over the Colonial job.

The Colonials will send Jack Ormiston or Charlie Ayers against the Rome Colonels in the opener of a two-game series tonight at the stadium at 8:30.

Stanton Hal Cops Roosevelt Feature

Westbury, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Stanton Hal beat the three-horse entry of Tarheel, Solicitor and Direct Rhythm, last night in the Village Farm Stake for three-year-old pacers at Roosevelt Raceway.

Jimmy Wingfield drove the bay colt home in 2:04 for a length victory over Waybill. Only Direct Rhythm was able to place in the money for the three-horse, W. N. Reynold stable entry.

The winner took the lead early and maintained it to the wire.

Stanton Hal, owned by H. Wilson, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., now has won his last four starts.

The winner returned $6.40, $7.40 and $2.10.

Veeck Promises Funs for Browns

St. Louis, June 22 (AP)—Bill Veeck, baseball's master showman, plans to make things lively in St. Louis when he gains control of the Browns.

An agreement paving the way for Veeck and associates to buy the controlling interest in the American League club from Bill and Charlie Dewitt was announced yesterday.

Veeck was asked whether St. Louis could expect the same attractions he offered as owner of the Milwaukee Brewers and the Cleveland Indians. These included tight-rope walkers, fireworks, a nursery for the benefit of baseball-loving mothers and the like.

"I always believe in having fun at the ball park," Veeck said. "Baseball is entertainment. Why surround it with a staid, solemn atmosphere?

"The more enjoyable you make it, the better people are going to like it. That's why I say let's have some fun doing it."

Need 85 Per Cent

The sale of the Dewitt brother's 58 per cent interest is contingent upon Veeck's ability to purchase other outstanding stock until he has 85 per cent of the total stock.

The Dewitts hold 156,000 of the 275,000 shares of stock. The remainder is mostly in small lots in the hands of some 1,400 other stockholders. Veeck is offering $7 a share for the stock and has set a July 4 deadline for the trading.

Associates were confident Veeck will obtain the stock he needs. Reports here were that the stock transfers already have begun, with several parcels being purchased within the past week or two.

"If we obtain enough stock tomorrow or the next day or any time up to July 5 that's when we'll take over," Veeck said.

The short-sleeved idea man was emphatic in saying the club will remain in St. Louis.

"I think we can build up interest in the team," he said.

Heafner-Palmer Lead Inverness

Toledo, O., June 22 (AP)—The field was chasing two slow-moving, drawling North Carolinians today as the second round started in the $15,000 Inverness Best-Ball round robin golf tournament.

Out front with a plus five rating, four ahead of their nearest foe—after a nine-under-par 62 in yesterday's play—were Clayton Heafner of Charlotte, second place in last week's National Open, and Johnny Palmer of Badin.

Their barrage of birdies—they were under par on nine of the 18 holes—gave them a five-up victory over New Yorkers Al Brosch of Garden City and Pete Cooper of White Plains.

That was quite an edge, since Henry Ransom of St. Andrews, Ill., and Roberto Devicenzo of the Argentine, with a one-up conquest over Jim Demaret and Jack Burke, two torrid Texans, were the only other winners.

Two matches finished in dead heats, the two favored teams being held even. Defending champion Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Jim Ferrier, the Australian-born San Franciscan, finished square with E. J. Dutch Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., and Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill.

Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, the pair of former National Open champions favored to fight it out with Snead-Ferrier for the $4,000 top prize, drew even on the final hole with their foes, Fred Haas of New Orleans, and chunky "Porky" Oliver of Seattle.

Also participating will be the Lions Club Junior Drum Corps; members of the Kingston Paid Firemen's organization, Lions Club and other service organizations and K.A.A. officials and members. Happy Quits On July 15

New York, June 22 (AP)—P. K. Wrigley, Jr., owner of the Chicago Cubs, called today for a new charter for the baseball commissioner's job as a search for a successor to A. B. Chandler began in earnest.

"Before we can pick the man we must decide what the job is," said Wrigley in a telephone interview from Chicago. "Up to now the duties have been negative. The baseball commissioner should not be a policeman. He should be a leader."

Chandler resigned effective July 15. At that time control of baseball will pass into the hands of an executive committee composed of Will Harridge, American League president; Ford Frick, National League president; Tom Yawkey, Boston Red Sox; and Warren Giles, Cincinnati Reds.

Wrigley is a member of the screening committee appointed to sift candidates for Chandler's job. Their work is complete, he said, and a list has been drawn up. Now it is up to baseball owners to make their decision.

Chester, Pa.—Rocky Jones, 174, Chester, stopped Ted Calaman, 183½, Philadelphia, 3.

The Scoreboard

BY JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Saul Rogovin, Bob Cain, Sam Chapman, Tommy Brown and Don Johnson know it was true when the man said: "All you need is a change of scenery."

Most ball players hear that cheerless message from the front office, sooner or later. Usually it's the kiss of death, meaning you're through, bud. Get moving.

In the cases of Rogovin, Cain, Chapman, Brown and Johnson it seems to mean the dawn of a new life. They're all red hot.

Just take a look at what happened yesterday:

1. Rogovin, traded by Detroit to Chicago May 15, choked off the New York Yankees with four hits, 5-2, restoring the White Sox's lead to 3½ games. It was his third win and fifth complete game in his new uniform.

2. Cain, sent to Detroit in the Rogovin deal, polished off Philadelphia, 9-3, his fifth win since he left Chicago.

Chapman Perks Up

3. Chapman, sold to Cleveland by Philadelphia in mid-May, caught fire at Fenway Park in the Tribe's 8-4 victory. He drove home three with a double and then stole home in the first inning. Later he knocked in another run. Since he joined the Indians he has hit four homers. With the A's he had none.

4. Brown, the perpetual juvenile hope at Brooklyn, finally heard the "change of scenery" routine June 7 when the Dodgers sold him to the Phils. Installed at second base by Eddie Sawyer, he came through with a grand slam home run in yesterday's 10-5 romp over Pittsburgh.

5. Johnson, clicking for his old Yankee boss, Bucky Harris, now that both are in Washington, turned in a six-hitter against St. Louis last night for his third straight win 9-2. In between the Yanks and Senators, Johnson did a turn with St. Louis which sold him to Washington May 29.

Roe Wins 10th

Recently traded stars did not rate such important roles in the other major league games played yesterday when the St. Louis Cards' Gerry Staley blanked the New York Giants, 2-0, on five hits and Brooklyn's Preacher Roe spun his 10th straight by subduing Cincinnati, 6-4, with ninth-inning help from Carl Erskine.

A scheduled Boston at Chicago game in the National was rained out after one inning with the Braves on top 1-0.

Rogovin's brilliant performance at Yankee Stadium yesterday was a big win for the White Sox, enabling them to split a vital series on the road.

Little Nellie Fox and Red Robinson led the 13-hit blast against Spec Shea and two others. After Fox opened with a triple and scored on a fly, the Yanks never did catch up, despite two homers by Johnny Mize.

The 122,566 skeptical fans who saw the four-game series came away convinced the White Sox are no fly-by-nights but a serious pennant threat.

Brown showed the way for the Pirates with his first-inning homer with the bases full. Bill Nicholson and Willie Jones also homered as the Phils swept the three-game series and sneaked into fourth place. Robin Roberts rode home easy with a 12-hitter for his eighth win. Rookie Paul Lapalme was the loser.

The Dodgers stretched their National League lead to 6½ games on Roe's 10th straight victory.

Staley had a big day for himself, winning No. 9 with a shutout and starting the game-winning spurt with a double. Solly Hemus' single, an error by Willie Mays and a double by Red Schoendienst were enough to hand a fifth loss to the Giants' Sheldon Jones, a none-winner.

Wiltwyck Motors Trip Old Caps, 5-2, to Tie for Lead

Lou Resseguie Fifth Hurler To Win for Club

Playoff Dates Set Next Week

The clubs have identical records of five wins and one setback.

Resseguie struck out seven, walked three and yielded single tallies in the fifth and seventh innings. The Wiltwycks got to Burdette Whittaker early and ran up a 4-0 margin in the first three innings.

Augie Passante's leadoff double, a walk to Minado, a long fly and Lefty Passante's single chased two Wiltwyck runners across in the first inning. The Motormen made it 4-0 in the third when Trapani singled, Harry Kite doubled and Trapani scored on Lefty Passante's grounder to first. McClelland's single delivered Kite with the second run.

Score In Fifth

Two infield outs sandwiched with Minadeo's double closed out the Wiltwyck scoring in the fifth.

Resseguie had a shutout for four innings but yielded a cheap Old Cap tally in the fifth when Oakley walked, stole second and went all the way as Lefty Passante dropped Decker's pop fly behind first base.

Bill Jackson tapped Resseguie for the longest single of the season in the seventh, the ball bouncing off the picket fence in dead center. Schryver doubled him to third and he tallied on Decker's infield out.

A. Passante, Trapani and D. Minadeo had two hits each for the winners. The six Old Cap safeties were scattered among six players.

Messinger's Memos:

If anyone ever finds out what happened to the old time crowds at the City League games, please get in touch with league officials. (A reward is offered). Wiltwyck Motors is filthy rich with pitchers. Five different hurlers have contributed five well pitched games. Joe Canosa is the only one to lose a decision. In 40 innings in six games, the Wiltwyck flingers have permitted only 15 runs (seven unearned) and have fanned 40 batters for an average of one per inning. Lou "Duke" Resseguie is a freshman hurler at Duke University. Maybe Casey Stengel could use him for that fifth Yankee starter. A future home and home series with the Poughkeepsie twi winners is planned. Monday night Ferraro's Bowlodrome plays host to Jones Dairy and on Tuesday, Morgan's Merchants also take on the Dairymen to settle their tie game of this week.

Richards Ready To Quit Tennis

Forest Hills, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Vinnie Richards, the boy wonder of tennis 30 years ago, reaches the end of the trail today—assuming he gets beaten by Bobby Riggs in the National Professional championships.

Richards, now 48 and portly, said he would hang up his tournament rackets after his first loss in the pro championships, which moved into the second round today at the West Side Tennis Club, scene of some of his greatest triumphs.

"From now on," said Vinnie, who has played only five matches in the past two years, "I'm going to concentrate on golf. I can play 27 holes and not feel it, but a few sets of strenuous tennis ties me up in knots now."

He polished off Henry Quinn of Ardsley, N. Y., 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, yesterday in the first round. This sent him squarely into little Riggs, the promoter of the tourney, who still can swing a mean racket.

Correct mental attitude on wood shots is necessary to a successful game.

This applies especially to woods used on the fairways as most golfers have reconciled themselves to woods off the tee.

Actually, woods are easier to use than irons. For one thing, they generally are used off the tee or from good lies in the fairway.

Sam Snead

A good wood has a wide, flat sole designed to right the club to some extent if it is swung too deeply into the turf. There is no such sole on irons. Hence, with the right mental disposition, your wood game should be up to, if not excel, your iron game.

The ball should be left of center. I like to play my drives off my left heel, with each of my other woods up to No. four moved slightly toward center. I recommend a slightly closed stance, right foot back an inch.

Generally, when a golfer picks up a wood he has visions of hitting the ball a country mile. He tries by brute force in his swing. He forgets that each club is designed for distance so he won't have to break his back on a 250-yard drive.

Most professionals agree you get more distance out of woods when you are relaxed.

Always relax and swing easily. Balance throughout the entire swing is an important feature. Develop the swing gradually. Don't rush it. Practice for timing, smoothness and rhythm, which in turn will provide accuracy and, finally, distance.

Remember that your hands work as a team. When you start the swing, bring the club back with both hands—never with either hand alone.

Keep in mind that you are swinging the club. Don't lift it or you many lose some of your precious balance.

NEXT: Don't hurry your downswing, advises Sam Snead.

HARMON-IZING — Claude Harmon demonstrates the proper stance for wood shots, slightly closed with ball off the left foot, hands working as a team, head down. (NEA)

The SCOREBOARD

BI JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Saul Rogovin, Bob Cain, Sam Chapman, Tommy Brown and Don Johnson know it was true when the man said: "All you need is a change of scenery."

Most ball players hear that cheerless message from the front office, sooner or later. Usually it's the kiss of death, meaning you're through, bud. Get moving.

In the cases of Rogovin, Cain, Chapman, Brown and Johnson it seems to mean the dawn of a new life. They're all red hot.

Just take a look at what happened yesterday:

1. Rogovin, traded by Detroit to Chicago May 15, choked off the New York Yankees with four hits, 5-2, restoring the White Sox's lead to 3½ games. It was his third win and fifth complete game in his new uniform.

2. Cain, sent to Detroit in the Rogovin deal, polished off Philadelphia, 9-3, his fifth win since he left Chicago.

Chapman Perks Up

3. Chapman, sold to Cleveland by Philadelphia in mid-May, caught fire at Fenway Park in the Tribe's 8-4 victory. He drove home three with a double and then stole home in the first inning. Later he knocked in another run. Since he joined the Indians he has hit four homers. With the A's he had none.

4. Brown, the perpetual juvenile hope at Brooklyn, finally heard the "change of scenery" routine June 7 when the Dodgers sold him to the Phils. Installed at second base by Eddie Sawyer, he came through with a grand slam home run in yesterday's 10-5 romp over Pittsburgh.

5. Johnson, clicking for his old Yankee boss, Bucky Harris, now that both are in Washington, turned in a six-hitter against St. Louis last night for his third straight win 9-2. In between the Yanks and Senators, Johnson did a turn with St. Louis which sold him to Washington May 29.

Roe Wins 10th

Recently traded stars did not rate such important roles in the other major league games played yesterday when the St. Louis Cards' Gerry Staley blanked the New York Giants, 2-0, on five hits and Brooklyn's Preacher Roe spun his 10th straight by subduing Cincinnati, 6-4, with ninth-inning help from Carl Erskine.

A scheduled Boston at Chicago game in the National was rained out after one inning with the Braves on top 1-0.

Rogovin's brilliant performance at Yankee Stadium yesterday was a big win for the White Sox, enabling them to split a vital series on the road.

Little Nellie Fox and Red Robinson led the 13-hit blast against Spec Shea and two others. After Fox opened with a triple and scored on a fly, the Yanks never did catch up, despite two homers by Johnny Mize.

The 122,566 skeptical fans who saw the four-game series came away convinced the White Sox are no fly-by-nights but a serious pennant threat.

Brown showed the way for the Pirates with his first-inning homer with the bases full. Bill Nicholson and Willie Jones also homered as the Phils swept the three-game series and sneaked into fourth place. Robin Roberts rode home easy with a 12-hitter for his eighth win. Rookie Paul Lapalme was the loser.

The Dodgers stretched their National League lead to 6½ games on Roe's 10th straight victory.

Staley had a big day for himself, winning No. 9 with a shutout and starting the game-winning spurt with a double. Solly Hemus' single, an error by Willie Mays and a double by Red Schoendienst were enough to hand a fifth loss to the Giants' Sheldon Jones, a none-winner.

DOBY HEADS HOME

Larry Doby, Cleveland Indians centerfielder, slides across home plate head first, scoring all the way from first on Sam Chapman's triple to center in first inning of game with Boston Red Sox in Fenway Park, Boston. Bosox catcher Les Moss tries in vain to tag Doby. The umpire is Hank Soar. Cleveland won, 8-4. (AP Wirephoto)

Learn Golf From the Stars

By NEA Service

Fifteenth of a series by members of the P.G.A.
By SAM SNEAD
Former British Open, PGA and Masters Champion

Correct mental attitude on wood shots is necessary to a successful game.

This applies especially to woods used on the fairways as most golfers have reconciled themselves to woods off the tee.

Actually, woods are easier to use than irons. For one thing, they generally are used off the tee or from good lies in the fairway.

Sam Snead

A good wood has a wide, flat sole designed to right the club to some extent if it is swung too deeply into the turf. There is no such sole on irons. Hence, with the right mental disposition, your wood game should be up to, if not excel, your iron game.

The ball should be left of center. I like to play my drives off my left heel, with each of my other woods up to No. four moved slightly toward center. I recommend a slightly closed stance, right foot back an inch.

Generally, when a golfer picks up a wood he has visions of hitting the ball a country mile. He tries by brute force in his swing. He forgets that each club is designed for distance so he won't have to break his back on a 250-yard drive.

Most professionals agree you get more distance out of woods when you are relaxed.

Always relax and swing easily. Balance throughout the entire swing is an important feature. Develop the swing gradually. Don't rush it. Practice for timing, smoothness and rhythm, which in turn will provide accuracy and, finally, distance.

Remember that your hands work as a team. When you start the swing, bring the club back with both hands—never with either hand alone.

Keep in mind that you are swinging the club. Don't lift it or you many lose some of your precious balance.

NEXT: Don't hurry your downswing, advises Sam Snead.

HARMON-IZING — Claude Harmon demonstrates the proper stance for wood shots, slightly closed with ball off the left foot, hands working as a team, head down. (NEA)

Lou Resseguie Fifth Hurler To Win for Club

Playoff Dates Set Next Week

Lou Resseguie's sparkling six-hit pitching carried Wiltwyck Motors and earned the Highland aggregation a first place deadlock with Chez Emile in the City Baseball League, yesterday before another sparse gathering at the Athletic Field.

The clubs have identical records of five wins and one setback.

Resseguie struck out seven, walked three and yielded single tallies in the fifth and seventh innings. The Wiltwycks got to Burdette Whittaker early and ran up a 4-0 margin in the first three innings.

Augie Passante's leadoff double, a walk to Minado, a long fly and Lefty Passante's single chased two Wiltwyck runners across in the first inning. The Motormen made it 4-0 in the third when Trapani singled, Harry Kite doubled and Trapani scored on Lefty Passante's grounder to first. McClelland's single delivered Kite with the second run.

Score In Fifth

Two infield outs sandwiched with Minadeo's double closed out the Wiltwyck scoring in the fifth.

Resseguie had a shutout for four innings but yielded a cheap Old Cap tally in the fifth when Oakley walked, stole second and went all the way as Lefty Passante dropped Decker's pop fly behind first base.

Bill Jackson tapped Resseguie for the longest single of the season in the seventh, the ball bouncing off the picket fence in dead center. Schryver doubled him to third and he tallied on Decker's infield out.

A. Passante, Trapani and D. Minadeo had two hits each for the winners. The six Old Cap safeties were scattered among six players.

Messinger's Memos:

If anyone ever finds out what happened to the old time crowds at the City League games, please get in touch with league officials. (A reward is offered). Wiltwyck Motors is filthy rich with pitchers. Five different hurlers have contributed five well pitched games. Joe Canosa is the only one to lose a decision. In 40 innings in six games, the Wiltwyck flingers have permitted only 15 runs (seven unearned) and have fanned 40 batters for an average of one per inning. Lou "Duke" Resseguie is a freshman hurler at Duke University. Maybe Casey Stengel could use him for that fifth Yankee starter. A future home and home series with the Poughkeepsie twi winners is planned. Monday night Ferraro's Bowlodrome plays host to Jones Dairy and on Tuesday, Morgan's Merchants also take on the Dairymen to settle their tie game of this week.

Richards Ready To Quit Tennis

Forest Hills, N. Y., June 22 (AP)—Vinnie Richards, the boy wonder of tennis 30 years ago, reaches the end of the trail today—assuming he gets beaten by Bobby Riggs in the National Professional championships.

Richards, now 48 and portly, said he would hang up his tournament rackets after his first loss in the pro championships, which moved into the second round today at the West Side Tennis Club, scene of some of his greatest triumphs.

"From now on," said Vinnie, who has played only five matches in the past two years, "I'm going to concentrate on golf. I can play 27 holes and not feel it, but a few sets of strenuous tennis ties me up in knots now."

He polished off Henry Quinn of Ardsley, N. Y., 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, yesterday in the first round. This sent him squarely into little Riggs, the promoter of the tourney, who still can swing a mean racket.

Short-Stop U. S. Food

Frankfurt, Germany (AP) — The Kremlin's "Hate America" campaign has broadened even to include types of food sent to German prisoners of war in Russian prisons and camps. Food packages containing canned goods with American labels or other items with U. S. markings never reach prisoners. Although Russia has claimed that all German prisoners of war she took have been repatriated, a recent United Nations estimate placed at "thousands" those still held. Recently German Red Cross officials told relatives of war prisoners not to try to send American goods.

Ridgway Approved MacArthur's Plan For Chinese Troops

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, now Far Eastern commander, supported last December the demand of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for use of Chinese Nationalist troops against the mainland of China.

This was developed today at the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal for publicly advocating use of the Nationalist troops and other direct blows at Red China.

Senator Knowland (R.-Calif.) put into the record a communication that Ridgway, then field commander under MacArthur, sent late in December to Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff.

In it, Ridway said he was convinced of the logic" of MacArthur's contention that a Nationalist offensive in South China would "even if only moderately successful, relieve pressure on our force in Korea."

This was at a time when United Nations forces had been driven back in Korea by overwhelming numbers of Chinese Red troops which entered the war unexpectedly.

Knowland produced the paper while the senators were hearing testimony from Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, former commander of the Seventh Division in Korea. Barr had given them a personal story of the sudden Chinese assault on United States forces last fall when they had ranged up to the Korean-Manchurian border.

Agreed With Action

Ridgway told Collins he and MacArthur had agreed that U. S. action should be taken to permit the Nationalist forces under Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa "to operate without delay and without limitations against the mainland of South China."

President Truman fired MacArthur for publicly advocating a naval blockade of China and bombing of Manchurian bases as well as use of the Chinese Nationalist troops. Ridgway was then appointed to succeed MacArthur.

The administration contends the steps MacArthur proposed would increase the risk of World War III and has instructed Ridgway to continue fighting a limited war in Korea.

Barr told the senators he believes the nation never had had "a finer or more efficient army" than the American Eighth Army in Korea.

"My opinion of the army today is the very highest," Barr declared. "I don't think our country has ever had a finer or more efficient army than the Eighth Army is, in Korea, today."

Napoleon had little to do with drawing up the Code Napoleon which revised the laws of France in 1807.

U. S. Calls Upon

U. S. request was announced that more troops were needed on the battlefront. He refused to predict how long the fighting would continue but said "we will not be satisfied with a stalemate."

Cordier said the UN position on a cease-fire was clear. It has been willing. Thre has been no indication of any response from the North Korean or Chinese Communists. Ridgway had reported only half of the Chinese available forces had been committed in their last offensive.

No Reason for Offers

There was no reason, Cordier said, for the UN to make any further cease-fire offers .In Washington yesterday, President Truman told his news conference that he knew of no new peace moves by the unified command.

Official figures on aid and casualties are Pentagon-unified command security statistics, but official tallies from delegations and other sources show that it has built up into this picture near the event of the first anniversary of the Korean war:

AUSTRALIA—A battalion of about 1,000 troops on the front, two destroyers, a naval party of 50 servicing British Commonwealth ships in Japanese ports, 27 fighter and 8 transport planes, and the aircraft carrier Sydney, flagship of the Australian fleet, preparing to join the UN fleet in action now. Army-navy casualties up to a month ago totalled 137.

BRITAIN — More than 23,000 men in action on land, and in naval and air units; casualties more than 1,900.

BELGIUM - LUXEMBOURG — About 700 men in a land battalion and pilots; casualties 124.

Canada, 9,000 Men

CANADA — More than 9,000 men, 7,500 on land and the rest in naval and air units, and air support action; casualties 184 in land battles.

COLOMBIA—Naval frigate in action, and a battalion of about 1,200 men in training in Korea before moving up.

ETHIOPIA—A battalion of 1,000 men just arrived in Korea.

FRANCE—A battalion of more than 1,000 men; casualties 30.

GREECE—A battalion of about 1,000; casualties 139. One plane of a force of eight transport planes shot down.

NETHERLANDS—A force of 900 men on land, 228 on a Dutch destroyer; casualties 162.

NEW ZEALAND—Army of 1,019, navy force of 280; casualties 14.

Philippines—Infantry and tank force of 1,200; casualties 161.

TURKEY—Force of 5,000; casualties 1,613.

THAILAND — Regimental combat team of 1,200, two naval vessels; casualties 135.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA—Air combat team of 250 including 100 fighter pilots; casualties 6.

REPUBLIC OF KOREA—Estimated 250,000 troops, navy and air forces; casualties 126,174.

Latest U. S. battle casualties announced in Washington totaled 73,604.

Sweden sent a field hospital unit and Denmark a hospital ship. Norway contributed shipping to move supplies.

Troop 5 Meeting

Boy Scout Troop 5 held its final meeting of the season at the B'nai B'rith building Wednesday. Parents and friends who attended were entertained by a program put on by the scouts under the leadership of Robert Arnstein, scoutmaster, and David Badian, assistant. The scouts illustrated parts of the scouting program, including signalling, first aid, artificial respiration, and scout lore.

The scoutmaster and assistant were presented with gifts in appreciation of their efforts with the boys. The presentation was made by Mrs. Rose Netburn on behalf of the mothers of the boys. George Matthews, Rip Van Winkle Council president, was introduced, and Louis Short, Kingston District Campaign chairman, issued a call for volunteer workers. Refreshments were served by the mothers.

Elected at the annual meeting, in Missoula, Mont., she has been a director of the National Council for 12 years.

British Get Ready

and instructed him to suspend all leaves for the staff.

Drake said he would ask the Iranians whether the last directive applied to the British staff, whose leaves he is still approving.

Apparently Hussein Maki, spokesman for the Iranian directors, reconsidered his threat to shut off the oil valves unless Drake agreed to give the Iranians receipts for all oil put aboard ships. For the second time Maki's deadline passed without any move to close the valves.

Critical Situation

Drake said if the Iranian orders made continued British staff cooperation impossible, "a critical situation would develop."

The British would pull out in that case, he said, and "there is nobody to whom they (the Iranians) can turn over their operations."

The oil well and refinery operations are "not the sort of thing you can just turn off and leave," he said.

Drake said if the refinery were shut down, the power and pumping stations which it operates would have to close and a great section of this country would be without electricity or water.

As one western diplomat in Tehran put it: "Now we'll just have to wait and see whether the Iranians make a mess of running the complicated oil plant."

Iranian leaders seem confident, however, that the production operations, which have been turning out 30,000,000 tons of oil a year, would continue as before.

Man Pleads Innocent

New York, June 22 (AP)—Daniel Paolucci, 40, of New Rochelle, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of conspiracy and abortion in an alleged $500,000 a year abortion mill. Seven others indicted with Paolucci also entered pleas of innocent before General Sessions Judge Louis Capozzoli. No date was set for trial.

Introduces Legislation

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee said today he was introducing legislation to establish a $20,000,000 air force academy. Vinson did not say where the academy would be located. He said his bill would authorize the air secretary to determine the permanent location of the academy and to appoint a commission to aid him in selection of the site.

Schatzel Wounded In Korean Battle

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schatzel, of 34 Abeel street, were notified Tuesday that their son, Cpl. Donald Schatzel, 27, of the U. S. Marine Corps, was wounded in action June 16 in Korea.

The telegram gave no details but said full information would be forwarded.

A veteran of three years of service with the Marines in World War 2, Cpl. Schatzel was a reservist when he was called into the service Oct. 19, 1950. He went to Korea last January.

Cpl. Schatzel was graduated from St. Peter's School and attended the local high school. He was employed as an oiler on the tugboat Thomas Cornell before he entered the service. Last December he was married to Nelly Rovera, a nurse in New York.

The U. S. Army has its own pilots, trained in U. S. Air Force schools.

Short-Stop U. S. Food

Frankfurt, Germany (AP) — The Kremlin's "Hate America" campaign has broadened even to include types of food sent to German prisoners of war in Russian prisons and camps. Food packages containing canned goods with American labels or other items with U. S. markings never reach prisoners. Although Russia has claimed that all German prisoners of war she took have been repatriated, a recent United Nations estimate placed at "thousands" those still held. Recently German Red Cross officials told relatives of war prisoners not to try to send American goods.

Luncheon Dish

Eggs baked in a tomato sauce make a satisfying luncheon dish. Serve them with hard rolls and butter and a tossed green salad for texture contrast.

Ridgway Approved MacArthur's Plan For Chinese Troops

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, now Far Eastern commander, supported last December the demand of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for use of Chinese Nationalist troops against the mainland of China.

This was developed today at the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal for publicly advocating use of the Nationalist troops and other direct blows at Red China.

Senator Knowland (R.-Calif.) put into the record a communication that Ridgway, then field commander under MacArthur, sent late in December to Gen. J. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff.

In it, Ridway said he was convinced of the logic" of MacArthur's contention that a Nationalist offensive in South China would "even if only moderately successful, relieve pressure on our force in Korea."

This was at a time when United Nations forces had been driven back in Korea by overwhelming numbers of Chinese Red troops which entered the war unexpectedly.

Knowland produced the paper while the senators were hearing testimony from Maj. Gen. David G. Barr, former commander of the Seventh Division in Korea. Barr had given them a personal story of the sudden Chinese assault on United States forces last fall when they had ranged up to the Korean-Manchurian border.

Agreed With Action

Ridgway told Collins he and MacArthur had agreed that U. S. action should be taken to permit the Nationalist forces under Chiang Kai-shek in Formosa "to operate without delay and without limitations against the mainland of South China."

President Truman fired MacArthur for publicly advocating a naval blockade of China and bombing of Manchurian bases as well as use of the Chinese Nationalist troops. Ridgway was then appointed to succeed MacArthur.

The administration contends the steps MacArthur proposed would increase the risk of World War III and has instructed Ridgway to continue fighting a limited war in Korea.

Barr told the senators he believes the nation never had had "a finer or more efficient army" than the American Eighth Army in Korea.

"My opinion of the army today is the very highest," Barr declared. "I don't think our country has eyer had a finer or more efficient army than the Eighth Army is, in Korea, today."

Napoleon had little to do with drawing up the Code Napoleon which revised the laws of France in 1807.

U. S. Calls Upon

U. S. request was announced that more troops were needed on the battlefront. He refused to predict how long the fighting would continue but said "we will not be satisfied with a stalemate."

Cordier said the UN position on a cease-fire was clear. It has been willing. Thre has been no indication of any response from the North Korean or Chinese Communists. Ridgway had reported only half of the Chinese available forces had been committed in their last offensive.

No Reason for Offers

There was no reason, Cordier said, for the UN to make any further cease-fire offers .In Washington yesterday, President Truman told his news conference that he knew of no new peace moves by the unified command.

Official figures on aid and casualties are Pentagon-unified command security statistics, but official tallies from delegations and other sources show that it has built up into this picture near the event of the first anniversary of the Korean war:

AUSTRALIA—A battalion of about 1,000 troops on the front, two destroyers, a naval party of 50 servicing British Commonwealth ships in Japanese ports, 27 fighter and 8 transport planes, and the aircraft carrier Sydney, flagship of the Australian fleet, preparing to join the UN fleet in action now. Army-navy casualties up to a month ago totalled 137.

BRITAIN — More than 23,000 men in action on land, and in naval and air units; casualties more than 1,900.

BELGIUM - LUXEMBOURG — About 700 men in a land battalion and pilots; casualties 124.

Canada, 9,000 Men

CANADA — More than 9,000 men, 7,500 on land and the rest in naval and air units, and air support action; casualties 184 in land battles.

COLOMBIA—Naval frigate in action, and a battalion of about 1,200 men in training in Korea before moving up.

ETHIOPIA—A battalion of 1,000 men just arrived in Korea.

FRANCE—A battalion of more than 1,000 men; casualties 30.

GREECE—A battalion of about 1,000; casualties 139. One plane of a force of eight transport planes shot down.

NETHERLANDS—A force of 900 men on land, 228 on a Dutch destroyer; casualties 162.

NEW ZEALAND—Army of 1,019, navy force of 280; casualties 14.

Philippines—Infantry and tank force of 1,200; casualties 161.

TURKEY—Force of 5,000; casualties 1,613.

THAILAND — Regimental combat team of 1,200, two naval vessels; casualties 135.

UNION OF SOUTH AFRICA—Air combat team of 250 including 100 fighter pilots; casualties 6.

REPUBLIC OF KOREA—Estimated 250,000 troops, navy and air forces; casualties 126,174.

Latest U. S. battle casualties announced in Washington totaled 73,604.

India refused to send troops but sent a field ambulance unit.

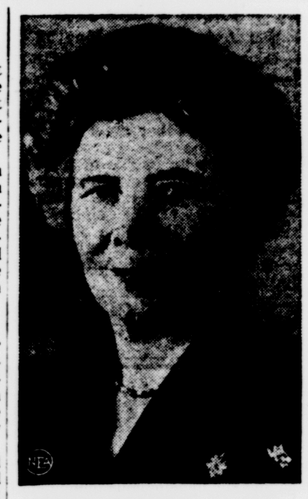

Sweden sent a field hospital unit and Denmark a hospital ship. Norway contributed shipping to move supplies.

Troop 5 Meeting

Boy Scout Troop 5 held its final meeting of the season at the B'nai B'rith building Wednesday. Parents and friends who attended were entertained by a program put on by the scouts under the leadership of Robert Arnstein, scoutmaster, and David Badian, assistant. The scouts illustrated parts of the scouting program, including signalling, first aid, artificial respiration, and scout lore.

The scoutmaster and assistant were presented with gifts in appreciation of their efforts with the boys. The presentation was made by Mrs. Rose Netburn on behalf of the mothers of the boys. George Matthews, Rip Van Winkle Council president, was introduced, and Louis Short, Kingston District Campaign chairman, issued a call for volunteer workers. Refreshments were served by the mothers.

HEADS GARDEN CLUBS—Mrs. G. C. Spillers of Tulsa, Okla., will be the new president of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., an organization with 25,000 members in 7700 garden clubs in 41 State Federations. Elected at the annual meeting, in Missoula, Mont., she has been a director of the National Council for 12 years.

British Get Ready

and instructed him to suspend all leaves for the staff.

Drake said he would ask the Iranians whether the last directive applied to the British staff, whose leaves he is still approving.

Apparently Hussein Maki, spokesman for the Iranian directors, reconsidered his threat to shut off the oil valves unless Drake agreed to give the Iranians receipts for all oil put aboard ships. For the second time Maki's deadline passed without any move to close the valves.

Critical Situation

Drake said if the Iranian orders made continued British staff cooperation impossible, "a critical situation would develop."

The British would pull out in that case, he said, and "there is nobody to whom they (the Iranians) can turn over their operations."

The oil well and refinery operations are "not the sort of thing you can just turn off and leave," he said.

Drake said if the refinery were shut down, the power and pumping stations which it operates would have to close and a great section of this country would be without electricity or water.

As one western diplomat in Tehran put it: "Now we'll just have to wait and see whether the Iranians make a mess of running the complicated oil plant."

Iranian leaders seem confident, however, that the production operations, which have been turning out 30,000,000 tons of oil a year, would continue as before.

Man Pleads Innocent

New York, June 22 (AP)—Daniel Paolucci, 40, of New Rochelle, pleaded innocent yesterday to charges of conspiracy and abortion in an alleged $500,000 a year abortion mill. Seven others indicted with Paolucci also entered pleas of innocent before General Sessions Judge Louis Capozzoli. No date was set for trial.

Introduces Legislation

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.) of the House Armed Services Committee said today he was introducing legislation to establish a $20,000,000 air force academy. Vinson did not say where the academy would be located. He said his bill would authorize the air secretary to determine the permanent location of the academy and to appoint a commission to aid him in selection of the site.

Schatzel Wounded In Korean Battle

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Schatzel, of 34 Abeel street, were notified Tuesday that their son, Cpl. Donald Schatzel, 27, of the U. S. Marine Corps, was wounded in action June 16 in Korea.

The telegram gave no details but said full information would be forwarded.

A veteran of three years of service with the Marines in World War 2, Cpl. Schatzel was a reservist when he was called into the service Oct. 19, 1950. He went to Korea last January.

Cpl. Schatzel was graduated from St. Peter's School and attended the local high school. He was employed as an oiler on the tugboat Thomas Cornell before he entered the service. Last December he was married to Nelly Rovera, a nurse in New York.

The U. S. Army has its own pilots, trained in U. S. Air Force schools.

A-Bomb Display to Visit Kingston

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, under auspices of Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, an atomic bomb display will be staged on Wall street near the W. T. Grant store from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. To all who visit the display, which will be housed on a large trailer, there will be distributed free official A-bomb defense instructions.

The exhibit is entitled "The Deadly A-Bomb," and is one of several units of this type making a nation-wide educational tour under the direction of the VFW.

On display are the British and Russian conceptions of the A-bomb, which will give all visitors the basic knowledge and understanding of the most destructive and devastating weapon ever created by man.

There will be no admission charged but donations the public cares to make will be accepted and used in the service and welfare work of the VFW.

The official A-bomb defense instructions will be contained in a handy pocket-size card, these instructions stating briefly and accurately exact details as to individual action in case of an atomic attack, and was prepared from recommendations of government atomic bomb defense organizers. The distribution by the VFW is being done as a public service. The card is entitled "Save this card—it may save your life."

New York Man Killed

For Lee, N. J., June 22 (AP)—A New York attorney, walking around his parked car, was injured fatally yesterday by an oncoming motorist on Route 6. Police said Joseph S. McCann, Sr., of 36-11 221st street, Bayside, N. Y., had stopped his car on the shoulder of the road to let his 18-year-old daughter drive. He was struck as he walked toward the rear of his car and died several hours later in Englewood Hospital. The daughter, Mary Lois, and a son, Joseph, Jr., 15, had been riding with him.

Six Men Seized

New York, June 22 (AP)—A police narcotics squad today seized six men including a candy store operator they described as "the kingpin of dope peddlers in the Bronx." Assistant District Attorney David Blatt identified him as Robert W. Megginson, 24, and and said: "He has big connections for sources. If he would only open up we could get some really valuable information." All were held for questioning.

Plane Crashes, 5 Die

Seattle, June 22 (AP)—A four-engine navy Privateer airplane crashed in the mudflats near the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station yesterday noon, killing five of its crew of 10 men. Of the remaining five who were injured, one was in critical condition. Naval investigators still were unable to say how the Seattle-based plane happened to crash.

Nevada was the 36th state to be admitted to the union.

Three Fliers Die

San Antonio, Tex., June 22 (AP)—Because someone apparently released his parachute prematurely, three crewmen died in the fiery explosion of a Superfortress yesterday. Five other crew members, including the pilot, parachuted to safety after an engine of the B-29 caught fire during a routine training flight. The crash occurred about 6:40 (EST) eight miles northeast of Randolph Air Force Base, which is a few miles northeast of the San Antonio city limits.

Fort Benning, Ga., has been called the "Infantryman's West Point."

Hospital Workers Accused

New York, June 22 (AP)—Two Metropolitan Hospital workers have been accused of selling narcotics to 18 tuberculous patients in the city-owned institution on Welfare Island. The employes were seized yesterday by three narcotics squad detectives who masqueraded as maintenance workers in the hospital. They said they acted on a tip that a patient-addict complained the pair refused to extend him credit although he was a regular customer. Arrested in a Manhattan apartment were Albert Jones, 25, and John Cauthen, 30, both Negroes.

ALWAYS WHITE...ALWAYS BRIGHT...

DU PONT HOUSE PAINT
CLEANS ITSELF!

Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is so formulated that, as time goes by, a microscopically fine white powder forms on the surface. Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.

SELF-CLEANING Du Pont House Paint is as durable as it is beautiful . . . protects against rust, rot, and decay . . . gives lasting beauty and protection. Costs no more than ordinary paints—saves repainting bills! Call on a reliable painter for your painting jobs, and ask him to use Du Pont House Paint!

A-Bomb Display to Visit Kingston

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, under auspices of Joyce-Schirick Post, No. 1386, Veterans of Foreign Wars, an atomic bomb display will be staged on Wall street near the W. T. Grant store from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. To all who visit the display, which will be housed on a large trailer, there will be distributed free official A-bomb defense instructions.

The exhibit is entitled "The Deadly A-Bomb," and is one of several units of this type making a nation-wide educational tour under the direction of the VFW.

On display are the British and Russian conceptions of the A-bomb, which will give all visitors the basic knowledge and understanding of the most destructive and devastating weapon ever created by man.

There will be no admission charged but donations the public cares to make will be accepted and used in the service and welfare work of the VFW.

The official A-bomb defense instructions will be contained in a handy pocket-size card, these instructions stating briefly and accurately exact details as to individual action in case of an atomic attack, and was prepared from recommendations of government atomic bomb defense organizers. The distribution by the VFW is being done as a public service. The card is entitled "Save this card—it may save your life."

New York Man Killed

For Lee, N. J., June 22 (AP)—A New York attorney, walking around his parked car, was injured fatally yesterday by an oncoming motorist on Route 6. Police said Joseph S. McCann, Sr., of 36-11 221st street, Bayside, N. Y., had stopped his car on the shoulder of the road to let his 18-year-old daughter drive. He was struck as he walked toward the rear of his car and died several hours later in Englewood Hospital. The daughter, Mary Lois, and a son, Joseph, Jr., 15, had been riding with him.

Six Men Seized

New York, June 22 (AP)—A police narcotics squad today seized six men including a candy store operator they described as "the kingpin of dope peddlers in the Bronx." Assistant District Attorney David Blatt identified him as Robert W. Megginson, 24, and and said: "He has big connections for sources. If he would only open up we could get some really valuable information." All were held for questioning.

Plane Crashes, 5 Die

Seattle, June 22 (AP)—A four-engine navy Privateer airplane crashed in the mudflats near the Whidbey Island Naval Air Station yesterday noon, killing five of its crew of 10 men. Of the remaining five who were injured, one was in critical condition. Naval investigators still were unable to say how the Seattle-based plane happened to crash.

Nevada was the 36th state to be admitted to the union.

One mile in mountain elevation is equivalent to a distance of 800 to 1,000 miles in latitude in its effect on vegetation.

Three Fliers Die

San Antonio, Tex., June 22 (AP)—Because someone apparently released his parachute prematurely, three crewmen died in the fiery explosion of a Superfortress yesterday. Five other crew members, including the pilot, parachuted to safety after an engine of the B-29 caught fire during a routine training flight. The crash occurred about 6:40 (EST) eight miles northeast of Randolph Air Force Base, which is a few miles northeast of the San Antonio city limits.

Fort Benning, Ga., has been called the "Infantryman's West Point."

Hospital Workers Accused

New York, June 22 (AP)—Two Metropolitan Hospital workers have been accused of selling narcotics to 18 tuberculous patients in the city-owned institution on Welfare Island. The employes were seized yesterday by three narcotics squad detectives who masqueraded as maintenance workers in the hospital. They said they acted on a tip that a patient-addict complained the pair refused to extend him credit although he was a regular customer. Arrested in a Manhattan apartment were Albert Jones, 25, and John Cauthen, 30, both Negroes.

CLEANS ITSELF!
Your house keeps its freshly painted look when finished with Du Pont House Paint. Dirt and grime can't become embedded—rains just wash them away!

Heavy rains wash the powder away, taking dust and dirt with it, and leaving the surface clean and white again. Excessive accumulations of dirt (particularly in sooty industrial communities or in heavily shaded locations) may delay or interfere with this process. Because this "self-cleaning" is gradual, the wearing qualities of the paint film are not abnormally affected.
